Who am I talking to? Men looking for a quick fix for their flat, boring hair and barbers need a good styling powder.

Where are they now? They are scrolling on social media.

Where do I want them to go? I want them to be intrigued by the ad, making micro-commitments at the start, and clicking the CTA to buy the product.

What steps must I take to take them from where they are now to where I want them to go? First, I need to build intrigue using a fascinating hook. Next, I need to influence them to make a micro-commitment. Next, I need to intrigue them using an open loop. And finally a CTA.
