

SL: The reason why you are not generating more customers

Hey (name)

I must say your motivation to help other people's well-being is incredible and I applaud it.

Your online business has a lot of potential of gaining the likes and followers however there are some falls I have noticed whilst going through your page.

One of them being that the sentences are too long which would lose the customers to continue reading.

Another is it doesn't show how it can trigger someone's pain and turn it into a desire once they join your program.

However, I will be able to provide a service to you and help you overcome these problems for you.

I'm certain you have your own newsletter and I will be able to help improve that and gain more awareness towards your business.

"How?" you may ask...

Well... I'll be able to help you write the newsletters professionally.

On top of that, I'll be helping with the social media posts and help creating more traffic towards your business.

Empower your wellness journey...

- Gabriel.
