

Dry Winter is helping deer population March 13, 2018 North Dakota

MYNDNOW

... "Last year . . . some parts of the state saw 60 -plus inches of snow. This year we are no where near that," ... easier time finding food... main concern is that the streams and creeks that dried up during the drought over the Summer, won't be able to replenish themselves with the lack of snowfall..,