

Draft 1

Kam, you being in my life, is such a blessing. It's been such an incredible thing, really. To wake up, knowing I have someone in my life, who really cares. It has been a really long time since I've felt such a way about anyone. It's been even longer since I've thought they felt the same way. Maybe I misinterpreted things. Maybe I didn't. I think to myself everyday, hoping, and hoping I didn't. Only God knows how much I care. I care. I care so much. Even for the 2 weeks we weren't talking, every day, I wondered about you. Reaching back to you, and seeing you not hate me, not reject me, and even consider a single word I said, meant so much. Maybe I shouldn't have written this. Maybe I should have. I really don't know. Maybe things can go back to the way they were. Maybe they can't. I hope they can. Maybe they can, if you too want them to, but thats for you to decide. You can read this and know that nothing I have ever done, said, implied or got you, has ever been to hurt, deceive, lie, anger or disgust you. It has only ever been to make you laugh, smile, or just so you know I thought of you. Or you can disregard the words I bring you, and throw this away. It is your decision, not mine. I won't make you consider my input, only you can choose to.

I care so much more than you know.
I have only ever tried to make you smile in the end.
This is your decision, not mine.

Nandemonaiya lyrics/lines?

"Maybe this is meaningless to you, maybe it isn't. It isn't to me, I want you to know."

Miscommunication has nearly been the death of something I hold very dear. If I can prevent it again, I will.

You never truly know the worth of something until it's gone, and I've lost a lot.

Love seeing things that make me think of you

Draft 2

Kam, the days of you being in my life have just been amazing. I so dearly don't want it to end. More than anything. I so badly need you to stay. May it be, strangers, coworkers, friends, or anything more than. I'm more than lucky, blessed even, to have you in my life. I couldn't even begin to tell you how much it means. Something so grand. I haven't been this lucky in a long time. Every day, I find myself surrounded by meaningless things and meaningless people. At the end of the day, you're the only one who means something. At the end of the day, you're the only one who would be there at the end of the credits. At the end of the day, you're the one I want to call my friend. At the end of the day, you're the one I want to break the rules for. At the end of the day, I want you to be there. I want my day to end with you. You bring delight and something to look forward to, in life. I go about life, as if a chilly day, but then the sun shines on your cold cheeks warming them up. And you think to yourself, "that feels nice, I think I'll sit here for a little while". Without the sun there, the days just feel colder. Maybe its age, maybe it's perspective, but you're the sun that shines on my cheek, and life just wouldn't be the same without it. It wouldn't be the same without you.
