

Foxtrot Howl-O-Ween 2024

Good afternoon Foxtrot crew! This announcement has a big chunk of information about the upcoming Howl-O-Ween 2024 event! Please read through this, as it'll have a ton of information that we'll be touching base on, including information about the event itself, our official main sponsor, and what to expect for the event!

Howl-O-Ween 2024 Tickets & Merch pre-orders are live!

Starting off, we've published tickets for the event! You can purchase your tickets at <https://foxtrotclub.ticketspice.com/howl-o-ween2024> !

Tickets are going to be $40. There is a $3 ticket fee per ticket and there will also be processing fees and CO sales tax. For those that are curious, it'll total up to $49.45/ticket at the end of the night. This total does not include merchandise included. This event is extremely expensive, and these funds will help us afford this event, and future events we want to host like this!

We're also opening pre-orders for Merch as well! Here's what is available for purchase when you go to buy your tickets:

- Custom shot glasses
- Our first Foxtrot t-shirt! (Sizes go up to 2XL, due to limitations with printing service)
- The usual Foxtrot poster!

Please note that merchandise pre-orders will be open only until Noon on October 8th, 2024. The reason for this is to ensure that we can get the proper amount of merchandise printed/crafted and delivered to us in time for pick-up at the event! Get your custom Foxtrot merch while pre-orders are open!

General Event Information

We've been extremely hard at work behind the scenes to get this event up and running! This is why we've been so quiet about updates, as we didn't know much of anything until just this past weekend. Most of the basic information you'll need to know is on the ticket purchase page, such as time, when the doors open, and parking information.

We plan on compiling a big "How to attend" guide, much like we have for our normal events at Denver Sweet, that will be published on Friday, October 11th. This will give us time to solidify the last bits of our contract and ensure we have as many answers to give to all of you on what to expect for your first time at the SYEC!

That being said, if you have questions for us, please ask us! We'll use the questions sent to us to help us compile the guide! Please e-mail contact@foxtrotclub.com or poke us in the Unofficial Foxtrot Telegram chat (links in our Linktree: <https://linktr.ee/foxtrotclub>) and we'll either have an answer for you right away, OR we'll get an answer for you!

Sponsor Announcement

For those that don't know, running an event such as this is a massive undertaking. We've been saving up all of the ticket funds you have paid over the last 2 years since our last event at The Roxy Theater, and we pulled the trigger on such an event. One of the things we opened the doors for was for a sponsor to come in and help us make the overall cost to our attendees go down. One of our requirements was that the sponsor needed to be local, and a furry business. We have had one such local furry business reach out and help us out in a significant way!

We'd like to happily announce that Ambush Toys has officially agreed to be our Main Event Sponsor!

For those curious, here's how Ambush Toys has helped us out.

Parking

The parking situation at the SYEC is massive! The SYEC has guards and attendants on site that will help park your car on site and watch over things. In turn, something like this has a cost to it. It's normally $20 per car that parks on the lot, but Ambush Toys has agreed to pay for 200 cars to park on the SYEC lot for free!

With this buyout of 200 spots, this means that free space will still be fairly limited. Once 200 cars have parked on the lot, any cars after 200 will be required to pay the $20 fee to park their vehicle on the lot. We strongly encourage carpooling to ensure that everyone can get a free lot and nobody has to pay the $20 fee!

Giveaways!

With Ambush Toys helping us out for this event, they are also going to be doing a giveaway throughout the night!

We will announce further details as things around this front get finalized! Keep your eyes peeled on our socials and the Official Foxtrot News Telegram chat!

We are excited to have Ambush Toys as our Main event sponsor, and are excited to get them hooked up with a booth in the hallway where they can sell their merchandise to everyone at the event! We cannot thank them enough for their financial assistance in making this event happen!

Last Caw

We are also very excited to have Last Caw at our event! Last Caw is a local event organizer group, much like us, that focuses on the needs of our lovely furry community. They specialize in artist alleys, pop-up shops, and collaborative events that anyone can join! They are more known for their Were-House Art Markets!

If you wish to learn more about Last Caw, please visit their site: <https://lastcaw.cc/>

Last few details..

We swear, this is the last bit of this announcement!

For those that are curious, we are going to need help for this event! We have a massive group of volunteers helping us out, but if you are interested in helping us out, either by checking tickets, roaming the event space to help others, or watching over the headless lounge, we can always use the help! Please go to <https://foxtrotclub.com/volunteer> and fill in the form to help us out! We cannot make events like this happen without our volunteers and staff helping us out in the background!

We have hosted big events in the past, much like we have done at The Roxy Theater. This is going to be our biggest event we've ever hosted. This is also our first time hosting such an event in such a space as the Stockyards Event Center. If you have suggestions on making it better for future years, we do plan on gathering public feedback and using that to improve over future years! We only want to give to the community that has helped keep us alive for 14 years, and keep it going for the foreseeable future!

Again, if you have any questions, please ask us on our Telegram chats, or by contacting us at contact@foxtrotclub.com and we'll be happy to answer any questions you might have about the event! We are so excited to see you guys very soon!
