The screenshot shows a dialog box titled "Picasa™ Web Albums" with tabs for "My Photos", "People", and "Explore". The main heading is "Create a Google Username". Below it, the text "Add a username:" is followed by a text input field and an "Add Username" button. At the bottom, there is a link that says "Back to Web Albums Settings".

Click Change your URL. Then select your avatar name.

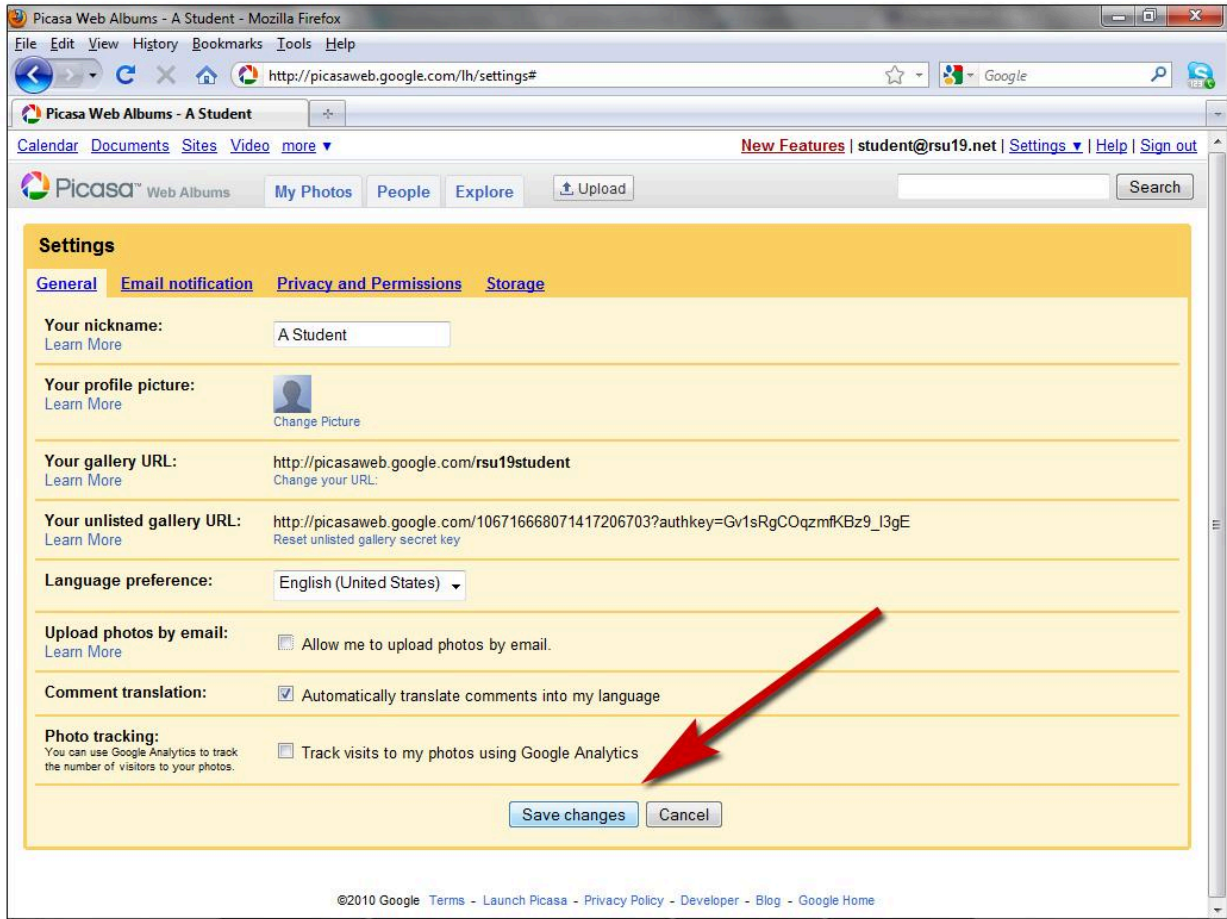

The screenshot shows the Picasa Web Albums settings page in a Mozilla Firefox browser window. The page title is "Picasa Web Albums - A Student". The browser address bar shows "http://picasaweb.google.com/lh/settings#". The page has a navigation bar with "Picasa™ Web Albums", "My Photos", "People", "Explore", "Upload", and "Search". The "Settings" section is active, with sub-tabs for "General", "Email notification", "Privacy and Permissions", and "Storage". The "General" tab is selected, showing fields for "Your nickname:", "Your profile picture:", "Your gallery URL:", "Your unlisted gallery URL:", "Language preference:", "Upload photos by email:", "Comment translation:", and "Photo tracking:". A dialog box titled "Change your URL" is open over the "Your gallery URL:" field. The dialog box contains the text: "By default your gallery URL matches your primary Google username. You may change your gallery URL by selecting one of your other Google usernames." Below this, it says "Use this username for my gallery URL:" and lists two options: "rsu19student" (selected with a radio button) and "106716668071417206703". A red arrow points to the "rsu19student" option. Below the list, it says "Your gallery URL" and "http://picasaweb.google.com/rsu19student". The dialog box has "Save" and "Cancel" buttons. At the bottom of the settings page, there are "Save changes" and "Cancel" buttons. The footer of the page says "©2010 Google Terms - Launch Picasa - Privacy Policy - Developer - Blog - Google Home".

Click Save Changes.
