

Different Styles Of Anchor Text

We are going to use the same paragraph to explain the different ways we can integrate a link into the body. The main forms you are going to use is some type of in-content link (a link within the paragraph)

1) The Author Bio

It is highly recommended that you use a virtual private network when connected to open networks that may be insecure. What the virtual private network does for the user is mask the identity from anyone connected to the same connection and encrypting all the data going out and into your computer. Potentially making you invisible and creating a level of security that the everyday hacker cannot break.

About the author: Jeff Green is a creative writer working for www.securethoughts.com an internet security news and information website.

2) The Direct Reference

It is highly recommended that you use a virtual private network when connected to open networks that may be insecure. What the virtual private network does for the user is mask the identity from anyone connected to the same connection and encrypting all the data going out and into your computer. Checkout recommendations on finding the best VPN provider at securethoughts.com Potentially making you invisible and creating a level of security that the everyday hacker cannot break.

3) The List Link

It is highly recommended that you use a virtual private network when connected to open networks that may be insecure. What the virtual private network does for the user is mask the identity from anyone connected to the same connection and encrypting all the data going out and into your computer. Potentially making you invisible and creating a level of security that the everyday hacker cannot break. Here is a list of recommendations on finding the best VPN provider.

- Securethoughts BestVPN Guidem
- Flash Routers Guide
- Cloud Wedge Reviews

NOTE: we don't want to be listing our competitors, let's find an obscure website not on the first page of google.

4) The Double

It is highly recommended that you use a virtual private network when connected to open networks that may be insecure. What the virtual private network does for the user is mask the identity from anyone connected to the same connection and encrypting all the data going out and into your computer. Checkout recommendations on finding the best VPN provider at securethoughts.com or Flash Routere. Potentially making you invisible and creating a level of security that the everyday hacker cannot break.

4) The One Word Link

It is highly recommended that you use a virtual private network when connected to open networks that may be insecure. What the virtual private network does for the user is mask the identity from anyone connected to the same connection and encrypting all the data going out and into your computer. Potentially making you invisible and creating a level of security that the everyday hacker cannot break.

5) The Two or Three Word Link

It is highly recommended that you use a virtual private network when connected to open networks that may be insecure. What the virtual private network does for the user is mask the identity from anyone connected to the same connection and encrypting all the data going out and into your computer. Potentially making you invisible and creating a level of security that the everyday hacker cannot break.

6) The Many Word Link

It is highly recommended that you use a virtual private network when connected to open networks that may be insecure. What the virtual private network does for the user is mask the identity from anyone connected to the same connection and encrypting all the data going out and into your computer. Potentially making you invisible and creating a level of security that the everyday hacker cannot break.

Variations On The URL

Below are the main ways that you can vary up the anchor text when placing a URL based link.

- Securethoughts.com
- www.securethoughts.com
- <http://www.securethoughts.com>
- <http://securethoughts.com>
- securethoughts.com/Netflix
- www.securethoughts.com/netflix