Blurb:

I'm nobody! Who are you?

Are you nobody, too?

Then there's a pair of us – don't tell!

They'd banish us, you know.

How dreary to be somebody!

How public, like a frog

To tell your name the livelong day

To an admiring bog!

(Emily Dickinson. Poems, Series 2. 1891)

Background:

If you are reading this file, congratulations. You've made it into the Fireteam Project. My job is to plan your missions, keep you well supplied, keep you well trained. How am I able to do this? Long story.

I got into law like every other doe eyed attorney only to end up protecting people who didn't need protecting. On one hand I served gangsters, corrupt officials, morally bankrupt businesses, you name the scumbag, I got them out of trouble. On the other, I was one guarded, well paid lawyer- what with all the blood money. Were it not for this circus of a legal system they wouldn't have gotten away.

Between my connections in the black market and my regular going rate, I have just enough to keep you and The Fireteam Project afloat, with just a little to spare to keep you comfortable... and if it isn't, ask. I'm busy but not heartless.

If somehow you are not a Fireteam Project member reading this file, I'm not sorry for what's about to happen.
