

AuSandJin (The Polyamorous Couple also known as Freshman, Junior, and Super Senior) A Love Triangle (but actually not lol) I love how they each show their vulnerable side to each other, even though they feel scared of being judged and or attacked, they all trust, support, and love one another and I think that's so cute. I also find it interesting that they're so technically a "role reversal" couple as well since if you were to look at them at first glance, you'd think Austin and Woojin would be the ones fucking Sandra but hehehehe, you motherfuckers do NOT know ball unlike me 🙄

The owner of the house:

Woojin Choi:

Introducing

Now works as an secretary at a university

MTBI: n/a

Character Inspiration: Myself (just a little bit tho), Llewyn (Love Trap), Rocky Horror the creation (The Rocky Horror Picture Show - 1975), Rogelio (She-Ra and the Princesses of Power), Gideon Graves (Scott Pilgrim Takes Off - face), The Wizard (Happily N'Ever After), Beom (Full Volume), etc.

Race: Asian-American (of Korean descent)

Likes: being in shape, almost anything with caffeine in it, watching professional wrestling (his favorite wrestlers were the Ultimate Warrior and the rock), protein, rice, meditation, etc.

Dislikes: people he loves being bullied/harassed, sexists, racists, transphobes, Ableists, seeing Austin and Sandra hurt, not being able to work out, being reminded of his ex-wife, Austin and Sandra fighting, etc.

Fun and or interesting facts: has Gynecomastia (thankfully Austin and Sandra don't shame him for that and actually adore his bosoms 😊), his favorite sport is martial arts (specifically Taekwondo), wears his glasses when he's at work or when he's relaxing and his contacts when he's working out, has an allergy to cats, has asthma, doesn't believe in bad luck, etc.

Habits: working out, doing puzzle games to exercise his brain, playing games with his sister every once in a while, doing math problems, etc.

How they dress (appearance): glasses (mainly at work), suit, tie, wrist watch, chest binder, long black socks, black professional shoes, etc.

Personality: always has a "are you ok?" Voice when talking to his loved ones, very protective, tough on the outside but soft on the inside, masochist???, etc.

Backstory: Born to Korean immigrants Seong-Ho (1945, Seoul, SK-2006, San Francisco, Ca) (a bartender, sadly was diagnosed with ALS in 1986 and is taken cared by his wife) and Kyong (1946, Busan, SK-present) (also a bartender) (both actually came into the United States in 1950 in order to escape the Korean War) in Alameda, California on May 31st, 1974, Woojin didn't really have any friends growing up since unfortunately due to his race and his parents background, other kids thought that he didn't fit in. However, he still had great social skills and interactions nonetheless since he went to a very good school (his parents knew one of the staff members that worked there). As he grew older, he originally didn't know what he wanted to do for a career but then realized that students didn't really have teachers or mentors to teach them anything and needed help, and so Woojin decided to become a teacher in order to help those that were like him at some point, succeed. After graduating high school in 1992, Woojin applied to the University of California, Berkeley. That's where he met his future wife, Cherri Hoffman. The two of them got married soon after Woojin graduated in 1996. They then moved into a nice neighborhood in Pacific Beach, San Diego, California since Woojin felt like that area needed some educators like him. The couple had a daughter born on May 7th, 1999 named Chojin. Shortly after Chojin's birth, Cherri started to feel unsatisfied with her lifestyle and felt like she didn't want to be with Woojin anymore and that was on her mind for 2 years until May 7th... (god fucking dammit), 2001. What was supposed to be a fun day for Woojin and his family turned into a nightmarish hellhole when he found voicemails of his wife talking to another woman, a woman he too recognized. The woman in question (named Jen Parker) turned out to be a teacher of her own as well and taught at the same exact high school as Woojin, Mission Bay High School. Cherri and Jen meet when Woojin introduced his wife to her back when he first started teaching at Mission Bay in 1996, since that day the two of them had been getting intimate with each other, especially when Cherri told Jen about how she felt unsatisfied with her husband and that as much as she wanted to leave him, she couldn't, in fear of mentally destroying him. The two talked over long periods of time and it ended when talking turned into hugging, and that ended when hugging, turned into kissing, and that ended when kissing, turned into sex, and- oh shit, Cherri just committed adultery y'all. So. Yeah. Woojin found out and confronted Cherri about it and she just told me bluntly that she wasn't into men anymore and that Jen helped her realize that. She told him that she was sorry for wasting his time and to not take it personal ("it's not you, it's me" ah comment). But she decided that she was gonna take custody of Chojin since she didn't think that she could be left alone with Woojin, who was starting to freefall into a deep depression. Shortly after the divorce and after Cherri moved out along with Chojin, Woojin began to work out more extensively and intensely (he already exercised well enough but after the divorce, he kinda just lost it). This caused his body to go from slightly above average dad bod, to divorced dilf dad bod. Oh yeah, I forgot about Austin and Sandra. Back when he was teaching at Mission Bay, he was sent to help "tutor" a student and possibly help her with some of her personal issues. Woojin immediately felt like he understood her and what she was going through and that made Sandra feel much better and the two of them had a liking to each other (not in a weird way, at least, not yet- you motherfuckers know what I mean 😊) but shortly there after, another student joined them, and his name was Austin. The exact same thing happened with Austin too and the three of them felt so comfortable with each other, specifically how they felt safe and secure around each other, specifically around Woojin. Meeting in a classroom, then began to meet outside of school to do no-school related things like hang out and other activities. Unfortunately when Woojin was out doing school work or with Austin and Sandra, his wife was secretly cheating on him (bummer). But wait, to backtrack, when Austin first started to meet with Woojin and Sandra, Woojin had already began sinking into his depression and Sandra realized this immediately but unfortunately Woojin didn't want to get her of the new Austin student involved with his personal life (at least, not yet anyway). Austin was basically like "is he usually like this?" And Sandra went "no". Even if they both knew something wasn't right with Woojin, they began to support him as well, just like he supported them, and that somehow made Woojin feel 'better' in a way? Unfortunately, all good things must come to an end, and that happened when his two favorite students (now friends) graduated together in Mid June 2002. Also to add insult to injury, he was fired the day after the graduation because he was getting replaced by a more "optimistic" teacher. This made Woojin even more depressed since his two friends (now former students) who were basically the last thing keeping him together (after the passion that he thrived for teaching was now gone), were leaving him, just like his wife... But of course and thankfully, both Austin and Sandra knew that the two of them leaving Woojin all alone would be a bad thing and they both decided that their future would take place near and around Woojin. (Oh, and around this time, Woojin had now become an accountant at JPMorganAndChase) As soon as they told Woojin this, he cried tears of joy and asked them to meet him at his place to 'talk' about some things... (cut off here bc now it's heading to the main story now)

The poor unfortunate soul:

Austin "Jacob" Hester

Birthday: June 1st, 1984

Birthplace: Eugene, Oregon (PeaceHealth Sacred Heart Medical Center University District)

Height: 5'6

Weight: 106 lbs (yikes 🦴)

Eye color: Yellow

Hair color: Blonde (more mellow-yellowish)

Gender: Male (born female)

Pronouns: He/Him (Formerly she/her)

Sexuality: Bi-sexual / transgender man 🏳️‍🌈 Submissive Bottom (when it comes to both Sandra and Woojin)

Favorite color: Green (specifically Shamrock) and Yellow

Current occupation (at time of story): university student but is on summer vacation during story

Now a zookeeper at the San Diego Zoo

MTBI: n/a

Character Inspiration: Myself (partially), Kyle (She-Ra and the Princesses of Power), Riff Raff (The Rocky Horror Picture Show), Ali (Miss Caretaker of Sunohara), Mr. Conductor (Thomas and the Magic Railroad), Munk (Happily N'Ever After), Miku, Sayuri (Ikemen Joshi to Josou Danshi), Cilan (Pokémon Black and White), Jimmy (Pokémon Chronicles), Miyuki Haneda (801 T.T.S. Airbats - personality wise), Puppy (Wolfeyxkat), Etc.

Race: White Caucasian (Irish descent)

Likes: Sandra and Woojin (romantically, emotionally, socially, and sexually), wearing scarfs, his stepfather, Sucking dick, bukkake (was uncomfortable at first, but now enjoys it), watching professional wrestling (his favorite wrestlers were Rob Van Dam and Jeff Hardy), milk, honey, being called "pretty boy", collared up, being dominated, sci-fi media, nature, animals, going to the zoo, smashed potatoes, Motörhead, being peed on (you filthy freaking motherfucker), etc.

Dislikes: transphobes, bullies, his biological father, ableists, racists, Being called "not being man enough" or "I need a REAL man", memories of when he was a woman, sexists, racists, having his peace being interrupted, Sandra's teasing, Sandra and Woojin being so god damn attractive, knowing he's absolutely weak whenever he's around them, being vulnerable to them, seeing Woojin and Sandra hurt, etc.

Fun and or interesting facts: his favorite sport is hockey. Favorite shows were Thomas and friends, tiny toon adventures, Animaniacs, Freakazoid!, is a vegetarian, used to get sick a lot when he was younger, has a pollen allergy, used to only go to Woojin for comfort and venting but obviously goes to Sandra for that too now, has a dog named Rupert, believes in bad luck, etc.

Habits: Stuffed animals (specifically bears) give him ptsd, gets calmed down when being smothered by either Woojin's or Sandra's bosoms (surprisingly), blushes immediately after accidental eye contact, etc.

How they dress (appearance): a grey scarf, a green sweater, light gray pants, white socks, brown boots, etc.

Personality: Shy

Backstory: Born to a flower shop owner (Vera Hester, 1961, Tacoma, Wa-present) and a lumber worker (Lynn Hester 1958, Spokane, Wa-2006, Baton Rouge, La) in Eugene, Oregon on June

1st, 1984, Austin was originally born a female and went by the name “Anna”, but on June 1st, 1989, on ‘her’ 5th birthday, ‘her’ parents took her to the zoo bc ‘she’ loved animals since ‘she’ would always play in the woods with some of the nearby critters (and also watch The Crocodile Hunter with Steve Irwin), but unfortunately at some point ‘she’ was left unattended and after a long walk, found ‘herself’ accidentally and unknowingly entering a bear enclosure, one thing led to another and the bear bit and ripped off Anna’s left nipple and some breast tissue, ‘her’ parents finally found ‘her’ and then took ‘her’ to a nearby hospital where they had to basically remove the remaining breast tissue on her left breast, the doctor then recommended if they could also remove the right breast of it’s tissue so it wouldn’t feel lopsided, imbalanced, or uncomfortable. They said yes. All this was taking a toll on ‘her’ parents, specifically ‘her’ father, Lynn. His behavior began to get more erratic as time passed by and it affected both his wife and his ‘daughter’. As ‘Anna’ got older, ‘she’ didn’t know whether ‘she’ was a man or woman. But over time, ‘she’ began to wear casual clothing that were considered “guy -like” and no longer had a feminine voice or appearance (at least that’s what ‘she’ thought). This all accumulated on June 1st, 2000 (‘her’ sweet 16) where Anna told ‘her’ parents that ‘she’ wanted to be a guy and wanted to go by Austin now and not Anna. Vera supported him obviously but Lynn however was not happy about his ‘daughter’s/son’s’ decision and their relationship with him began to deteriorate. But on Valentines Day 2001, it was revealed that Lynn was having an affair with one of the neighbors when Austin and Vera had come home early to surprise him and when he got home, he came in making out with the neighbor. After that, it was all over and Vera took custody of Austin and moved away from that place. They decided to move to the Pacific Beach area of San Diego, California because one of Vera’s good friends lived there and had offered them a place to stay. Beginning in the fall of 2001, Austin began to attend (his one and only year at) Mission Bay High School. He initially struggled because he was new and didn’t know anyone there but one of his teachers that was a math teacher, recommended that he go tutor with Mr. Woojin since he specializes in mathematics, not only because he was struggling in that math class but also to see if he could connect with anyone else who was also tutoring with him and Mr. Woojin. He went to them but to his surprise, there was only one other student there that also attended the tutor sessions, her name was Sandra Cooper. At first, they got off to a rough and awkward start, but over the semester, they got together to study and talk about other non-school related stuff. But unfortunately their time ended as they soon graduated in early May 2002, and unbeknownst to Austin and Sandra, Woojin was going through a difficult time in his personal life. (Read his backstory for that) Around that same time, Austin’s mom began dating a man named Mark McDonough (who also sounds like Mark Brunell btw) was a former drill sergeant after they met near Naval Air Station North Island, but surprisingly enough he accepts him as a male, why? Because he learned that stuff like that doesn’t define your character, it’s your actions and decisions that define your character. Once Austin graduated in Mid June 2002, he was undecided with what to do with his life. That changed however when his neighbor from three houses down was Woojin and he realized that Austin’s family had just moved in near his house and made him feel happy? In a way? (Rest happens in story so I have to cut it off here unfortunately)

The Feisty Now-It-All:

Sandra “Mason” Cooper

Dominant Top (on both of them Waos 😏😏)

Favorite color: blue and pink

Current occupation (at time of story): university student but is on summer vacation during story

Now is a part time hairstylist but a full time fashion designer (actually uses Austin and Woojin for her hairstyling practices and models for when she has them try on her work, it's quite adorable actually)

MTBI: n/a

Character Inspiration: Myself (just a tiny bit), Dr. Frank-N-Furter (The Rocky Horror Picture Show), Holli Would (Cool World), Nagatoro (Don't Toy With Me Miss Nagatoro), Alex (an oc of a former friend), Lonnie (She-Ra and the Princesses of Power), Nana Sunohara (Miss Caretaker Sunohara), Mr. C. Junior (Thomas and the Magic Railroad), Iris (Pokémon Black and White), Dawn (Pokémon), Mambo (Happily N'Ever After), Brazilian Miku, Koyuki (Ikemen Joshi to Josou Danshi), Marina (Pokémon Chronicles), Sylveon (Pokémon X and Y - color patterns), Arisa Mitaka (801 T.T.S. Airbats - partially personality wise), Kitty (Wolfeyxkat), Yoshi (Don't Toy With Me Miss Nagatoro), Toy Chica (FNAF 2). etc.

Race: African-Caribbean-American

Likes: Wearing skirts, teasing both Austin and Woojin (but mainly Austin), hanging out with her other friends, Brittany Spears, golfing, roller skating, watching professional wrestling, Austin's "fish", being a dominatrix, making inappropriate jokes (mainly sexual ones, ex: "What am I gonna do with a dollar, use it on 4 gumballs?" *all three leave the store together "I don't understand why you gave me two Sandra I thought you'd be the kind of person to take more than give?" "Oh, that'd be true most of the time buttttt I figured since you love 'balls' so much, I figured why not you have the extra gumball 😊." *disgusted then flustered face "O-oh screw yo-you Sandra!" "Hey, I speak the truth and nothing other than the truth 😊👉 oh and ah- love you too Austin 😊👉." *hugs him), giving people "makeovers", dancing, Austin giving her a lap dance, sugary food and drinks, Playing tennis, doing someone's hair, fashion, being a smartass, music, etc.

Dislikes: her dad, transphobes, bullies, ableists, racists, memories of when she was a man, sexists, people being rude to her friends, seeing Austin or Woojin being hurt, not being able to watch her favorite shows because of reasons, long lines, cats, getting herself and or her clothes dirty, shitty movies, Austin avoiding her, etc.

Fun and or interesting facts: has a nerdy side to her that she only shows when she's not with her other friends, has that damsel in distress vibe but when you save her she turns out to be a dom, is the type of person to fuck you in the ass as an reward for saving her, has a mole on her right breast, says “Rose tint my world” whenever she feels nervous, likes to say “I told you sooooooooo.” Whenever she is right about something, says “Moo mo mothafuckas!!!” When there’s something cow-related, making inappropriate jokes for a rise out of Austin (ex: “fuck me” “say less 😞.”), her favorite sport is golf, teasing Austin and Woojin (mainly Austin, ex: “Sandra, you suck.” “Oh, the contrary, Austin.” *cups his face with one hand - “you’re the one who sucks 😊.”), Like wearing makeup despite Austin and Woojin saying she doesn’t need to wear it 24/7 (“Can I just clarify that we love you regardless if you wear makeup or not.”), her favorite musicians are Bob Marley-Britney Spears-Lauryn Hill-The Rolling Stones-Selena, her favorite wrestlers were Chyna, Jacqueline, Matt and Jeff Hardy, she’s allergic to cats, is surprisingly good at tennis, she may be sassy but can be a bit of a genius in the most unlikely of times, snorts whenever she laughs hard or long enough, scared of her friends finding out she’s trans and if she’s friends with Austin, believes in some bad luck, her cheerleading practice song is “Caution” by Tashannie, etc.

Habits: wear contacts (bc she has vision issues and sometimes wears glasses), For some ungodly reason she sometimes likes to either twerk on Austin or have Austin “grind” on her lap, loves watching Austin “lick” a lollipop or a popsicle, brain malfunctions whenever she sees Woojin’s chest exposed, likes nibbling on a nearby person whenever she sleeps, etc.

How they dress (appearance): wears a magenta skirt, pink sweater, skirt and pants during the winter, wears heels during the spring, lipstick (sometimes, mainly to plant them all over Austin’s face and Woojin’s breasts), makeup (only for formal occasions and dates), loose shirt (again, to mainly tease Austin), etc.

Personality: Sassy, seductive, frightening at times, confident and bold but also self-doubtful at times, assertive (specifically when things get sexual), sultry, smart, impatient, etc.

Backstory: Born to immigrants Dajuan (1961-2019, Spring, Tx) (restaurant manager from Kingston, Jamaica) and Lelato (1962-present) (barber from Lusaka, Zambia), Sandra was originally born a male, going by the name “Samuel”. Her childhood wasn’t that traumatic, until... when he got older (at around 8) began to identify himself more girly and feminine. He began wearing skirts, putting on his moms makeup, got unique earrings, and much more. One day in June 1992, Samuel decided that he didn’t want to be a man anymore, and instead become a woman. She told this to her parents and while her mother was unsure at first, she said her child’s happiness comes before judgement and supported her. Her dad, on the other hand, absolutely lost it, saying that she’s degrading herself in societal terms and that she won’t make as much money because she’s a woman and not a man. Also he was very religious and believed that god would’ve been ashamed of what he was witnessing. He then threatened to expose her to the whole DFW community if she didn’t transition back to a man and do conversion therapy. (Such a scummy fucker) Not wanting her daughter to be ridiculed by her shitty father or other people harassing them, Lelato made the difficult decision of leaving Texas for a new fresh start, away from all the hatred and anger. They chose San Diego, California because both Lelato and Sandra loved the ocean, Sandra because she loves the beach and Lelato because it reminds her of home. They left without notifying her husband and divorced him by mail when they arrived in California so he couldn't get them. (Smart move) Once they arrived in the good 'ol Diego, they settled in an apartment in Pacific Beach. Starting in the fall of 1993, Sandra began attending Pacific Beach Middle School, then Mission Bay High School in 1998. She and her mother were initially concerned about her gender identity being revealed but they pushed on regardless. Sandra thankfully thrived in school and made some friends over the years but unfortunately most of them either moved away or just simply stopped talking with her. Sandra realized this too and started to feel a bit sad. She felt like she needed someone to talk to but not a student, more so a teacher or an adult. She asked one of her teachers this and they recommended her to- you guessed it, Mr. God damn Woojin. While Austin was there for tutoring, Sandra was there for basically therapy. Again, the two of them didn't get along at first, but they later grew fond of one another and they both felt like they had something in common that made them connect and bond more on a deeper level but they didn't know what it was (yet). As Sandra was approaching 18, she decided that she was getting breast implants to make her appearance more feminine. The surgery was costly but thanks to money they saved up, she was able to get it in late 2001-early 2002. Interestingly enough, Woojin and Austin did not realize that she had gotten implants because she didn't tell them out of fear I guess (and mainly bc neither Woojin or Austin wanted to bring it up themselves out of respect) and also because it was cold at that time which meant more clothing but they later found out that summer... (Thought about later removing her penis but in the end, she kept it.) Once she graduated college, she applied to San Diego University and got accepted and fortunately, she didn't even have to move away because the college was close to their apartment. One day she got a call from her former therapist/tutor/teacher, Mr. Woojin and he said that he wanted her and Austin to meet him at his house to talk. (I've leave it here, again in story stuff sorry)

Has a "Shuck me, I'm Irish" shirt (real shirt btw) laying around because her mother used to work at Aw Shucks back in Texas and makes Austin wear it because he's from Irish descent 🧐
