

Subject line: Release the potential of your financial expertise.

Hi there,

I've been scrolling through Instagram and I came across your account, moneyminded, and I was very impressed with your expertise in helping manage finances, the same has to be said about your Twitter account too.

However, I wanted to point out that you are missing a website and I wanted to offer the opportunity to work together to create one.

We can create valuable content such as blog posts

If you're interested in teaming up with me to create a powerful online presence, we should arrange a Zoom call to further discuss how we can take this to the next level.

Kind regards,

Matty
