

Unsure

Eclipses the hallucin of an ellipses
This tha whispers from the wisp
And what I learn from its spit
I can't see sugar on the seal
Only a saccharin i can't absorb
Ever only pretending to understand sweetness taste n scent

Going on unmonikered undubbed
Nd mute not for being without tongue
But instead for being dumb
Meekness is being no one
Weakness is falling to the first one who is false

Each night that the moons innocent puss goes on to shine
One can spy in her perfectly blemished face
Their own in coruscate blaze
As earth itself trembles
So will you feel your own flesh quiver to fear to passion to orgasm
As gales whirlwind into a greater vortex espied in full alone from highest sky So will your thoughts nd experience glide twirl into torrents ef angst of reflection uf daydreams
As flames gain upon the wicker or the wild generously or frightfully giving away their heat So will hands and feet mouths and peepers do such alike with kindness or ire

I'm fond uf the song
Lost when i'm taunt
But Lamb and Fawn i can't help but long Ya may not think me wise
May not think me strong
May no think me smart
May not think me much
But this ain't no splatter art i've put on to vainglory mine or some another heart
I got color that's what man's eye has got Brilliance breaking throu the wallows dark
Coming out in awesome flame
Don't tell me i got none Cause put me in the warmth of summer's dawn and you'll see the passion you've wrought
