[broken glass and noises sfx]

[scared] For the royal blood!

What in the five worlds was that? Is someone there?

[threatening] Show yourself or you will be executed without hesitation! You're in an unauthorized royal place- [Bran interrupts themselves]

[surprised] W-What...? H-How did you get into this facility?

Oh my truths...

Did you... Did you remember me...?

[relieved] I'm so happy... I'm so happy that you're here.

I missed you... Each day has been a never ending loop of you in my mind.

Also... [a bit sad] you didn't open your book in a while. What were days for you... were weeks for me...

Oh, nonono [regretting] Sorry, I didn't mean to blame you. It's totally understandable that meeting me and my world is such a commotion.

Not every night you are asked to help a kingdom from another world.

Oh, I forgot to welcome you. Welcome to the Castle of the Truth Kingdom.

Please, take a seat.

[chair sfx]

You might have quite a few questions, don't you?

It's okay. I understand it. Of course you'll have tons of them. I'm here to solve them.

Even though... May I ask you something first?

Yes? Thank you.

So... What did you do to come here?

Do you remember something about it?

Well... It's not like we have visitors frequently... As frequently as 1 every quite a few hundreds of years.

It certainly requires some abilities to do so. But most importantly, it requires a heart that truly believes.

I might confess to you something...

The bracelet I gave you when I visited you for the last time... Well. It had an enchantment in it. An enchantment that only true believers could be able to use.

[relieved sigh] Thank you. Thank you for believing in us.

I've always known that I could trust you. That your heart looks for the truth and only the truth.

[nostalgic laugh]

Anyway, I should proceed and explain to you the current situation, so you can understand what's going on. You deserve to know the truth.

[sighs]

It's been the toughest season ever. During this time we used to grow our crops, so all of the citizens could eat. Far from being a kingdom full of richness and royal families with big shiny gold armors, we're a humble civilization. We depend on our producers and farmers. This is the truth.

Yes, it is well-known that the royal family do have more resources, however, our true power comes from the truth and the negotiations and deals we can get from other kingdoms that, in addition, are far away.

As I told you before, my father wants me to get married. Your Grace from the nearest kingdom, they had a child many years ago, they're now in age to get married.

The unification of our regimes would help save our peoples from starvation, but... I'm almost sure it won't be enough.

Even though my father and even the Council now keep pushing... I know, they know that it won't be enough.

The Highness from the nearest kingdom and I have agreed on something. We want to truly help each other despite the consequences we might face later on.

[insecure] Yes... as you said. There might be a possibility.

[sigh] You've guessed... Yes, it has something to do with you.

But, there's an old legend behind it. I beg you to listen to it before jumping into conclusions.

[takes a deep breath]

Many years ago, there was a war. It was called the 5 Sacred Wars and it happened because of the death of a goddess.

Her name was Diké. She fell in love with a half-deity. Which means that he was also half-human. But...

[clears throat]

[melancholic] Souls from different worlds can't be together...

Though, gods and goddesses are given one miracle. She used her miracle to make their love possible. Her lover, Brinis, lost his godly side. Diké lost all of her deity and immortality.

Brinis' soul got lost in the process. Diké ended up being a human. Because of her dream of loving someone and then losing them, she said that dreams are dangerous and that's how the Truth Kingdom, which takes care of people's dreams, was created. Also, a rendition for his lover, son of the truth, is what makes us tell the truth. The betrayal of the ancient gods and goddesses made her hate the lies even more.

Diké cried and stated "For 60 days, souls will turn ice cold, and what someday looked up to the bright sun, will now turn into ash and dust. Until the true Descendant finds a new season for their inner world."

Then... [sighs] That's the story.

What do you have to do in all of this...? Well...

[clears throat]

I've fallen for you...

Since the first time your eyes posed in that book where I belong to.

I felt your passion and belief. Each time you open the book I'm happier.

You've been my happiness and my truth.

And before you ask me... I'm doing this because I... I think I love you.

[determined] I've never experienced this. I haven't felt that emotion this goddess cried and died for. All I know is that this heart will take courage out of nowhere to protect you against anything.

I don't want to lose you, and if we're meant to be, we will receive the blessings from the sky.

Stay with me, please. Let's save the kingdom together.

I have a castle, lands, and horses to offer you. But what I can offer you the most... Is love.

[laughs] Huh? No! I won't start a war if you don't stay. I would be sad, of course. But I'm not like that.

Relieved? What do you mean?

Of course you won't have a lunatic as a partner.

[surprised] Excuse me. Really? Are those your true feelings?

I'm glad... I'm really glad.

Oh [surprised] Look at your bracelet... It gained two new charms.

[soft laugh] I told you it was enchanted.

Blue and purple. Blue meaning hope and purple meaning memories...

[realizing] Wait...

[cheerful] Did you... did you remember everything?

Did you remember us sailing in the lakes? Did you remember the first time I held your hand? Please tell me.

Really? Oh truths! I can't believe it! [cheerful laugh]

[hugs listener, almost whispering] You're back, my restless star. Finally, you're back.

I missed you. I really did.

Oh, now that I think about it...

[nostalgic] My mother, the Queen, gave me that bracelet.

I still remember her telling me to give this bracelet to the one that could stop storms and winters.

I didn't understand back then. Until the coldest winter started and your eyes met the lines of this story.

I don't want anything else than to encourage you and cheer for your existence. I know you can be alone, you don't need me. I don't complete you, because you're already complete. But I do want to wake up everyday and choose each other as life partners.

Will you... will you be my Highness?
