◆ The Process ◆

Send me an email with your commission info with the provided form filled out (see below). I do contact through email only. Based on your request, I will email you a quote. It is okay to cancel at this stage.

Payment is 100% upfront and I will send you a Paypal invoice. Refunds are only acceptable if the commission has not been started; once I have started your commission refunds will not be accepted.

You will need to provide references, especially for ocs; the more references the better! References are also important for fan art requests as I might use an incorrect reference when looking them up on my own. Feel free to send a simple sketch (stick figures in pencil/ms paint/etc) of the general layout you want, but it is not required.

If you would like me to create your commission in the style of one of my own existing works (in tone or colors, etc), please include that in your request.

Unless otherwise specified, I will choose the final dimensions depending on composition, and at 300 dpi in png format.

It will take up to 2-4 weeks to complete your commission from the day payment has been made and confirmed. If for some reason I can't finish your commission within this time frame, I will offer either a full refund or an extension.

When I finish the initial sketch I will send you a watermarked copy for review and requests for changes can be made. After I send you the finished work, you may only request for small changes (color changes, small fixes). Large scale changes at the final stage will incur additional fees.
