GRADUATE COMMUNICATIONS

Program Outcome: Demonstrate professional written and verbal communication to achieve positive results.

PC-5.1	Use language that is clear, concise and organized.
No Progress 0	Student work demonstrates little or no understanding in all areas.
Introductory 1	Student work demonstrates a basic understanding of language structure, both written and verbal, that is clear, concise and organized. There are significant errors with format and mechanics.
Emergent 2	Student work demonstrates a developing understanding of language structure, both written and verbal, that is clear, concise and organized. There are some errors with format and mechanics. May exhibit weakness in three areas.
Practiced 3	Student work demonstrates a practiced understanding of language structure, both written and verbal, that is clear, concise, and organized. There are minor errors in format and mechanics. May exhibit weaknesses in two areas.
Proficient 4	Student work demonstrates a proficient ability to relate language structure, both written and verbal, that is clear, concise and organized. There are few or no errors in format and mechanics. May exhibit weakness in one area.
Mastery 5	Student work demonstrates superior ability to relate language, both written and verbal, that is clear, concise and organized. The expression of information is well written and original. There are few or no errors with format and mechanics.
Not Assessed N/A	No work was received by the instructor