Book Four, Augustine's Confessions

1. In thinking about Manicheism and astrology, how does one error lead to another?
2. Describe Augustine's reaction to the death of his friend?
3. What is the purpose of the questions that follow his reaction?
4. What does this book teach about real friendship?
5. What does Augustine mean when he says things arise and sink or rise and set? How is this like human speech?
6. How does Augustine contrast human words with the Word of God?
7. How does Augustine's Confessions teach us to avoid the saint's errors on how he relates to beauty?
8. What was your favorite quote from this book? Why?
