Subject: The Feline Holistic Nutrition Conference is on REPLAY this weekend

Sub-head: Find Your Options for Feeding Your Friend

I want you to meet a friend of mine - host of the conference, veterinarian Dr. Jeff Grognet

Dr. Jeff created this conference, and over 2600 people attended.

The great news? The entire conference is being re-released May 1-3. You can join and watch all 17 speakers.

Is feeding your cat fresh, healthy food starting to feel confusing or overwhelming? Are you not getting support on your journey from your current veterinarian? You're not alone—and the good news is, there's help!

My colleague, veterinarian Dr. Jeff Grognet, is hosting the Holistic Feline Nutrition Conference—and you're invited! After 14 successful events, this one was created especially for dedicated cat parents who want to nourish their four-legged friends naturally and confidently.

Here's a glimpse of what you'll discover:

- How nutrition can support a longer, healthier life for your cat
- Simple steps to start feeding fresh or raw diets safely
- How to confidently evaluate commercial cat food
- Key supplements that support feline vitality
- Nutrition strategies for digestion, skin, and immune health
- Holistic approaches like mushrooms and integrative therapies
- The role of the microbiome in your cat's overall wellbeing

The official conference is over, but due to demand, the encore starts May 1st at 9 am PST and runs for 3 days.
