Updated January 2025

Action Hub

The Action Hub is Lausanne's chosen digital platform designed to connect and equip Christian leaders from around the world, through fostering collaboration and action on the most pressing issues in global mission, and in this way empowering leaders to make a tangible impact in their local and global contexts.

Board of Directors

The group of people who are responsible for the overall governance of the Lausanne Movement.

Biblical

A key characteristic of our Movement is our commitment to God's Word as our foundation and fuel for everything we do and as our ultimate authority.

Cape Town Commitment, The

Acting as a roadmap for the Movement, The Cape Town Commitment sets out biblical convictions for the global church, and sounds the call for global action. This document emerged from the Cape Town 2010 Congress.

Catalyst

A leader of one of the Lausanne issue networks who are subject matter experts in their respective fields. Tanya van Horne oversees the catalysts.

Catalytic

One of Lausanne's key characteristics is bringing together diverse ideas and influencers to spark new insights and make greater progress than any could do alone.

Collaborative

One of our key principles is operating through a collaborative approach by facilitating fellowship with like-hearted believers that leads to action. We do so through a shared (polycentric) platform that invites others to work and lead together.

Collaborative Action Teams (CAT)

These teams seek to unite the global church and accelerate action by helping the various activities and networks of the Lausanne Movement to be even more effective and wider-reaching. The teams are overseen by Jurie Kriel and Jiyoung Yoo.

Communications

The sharing of information within Lausanne through email, media, calls, and various forms of writing, as well as the processes responsible for communicating with people and entities outside the Movement. Michael du Toit leads the communications team.

Congress

A major Lausanne gathering that intends to draw a significant and diverse number of Christian leaders and influencers to convene for the furtherance of God's global mission. Lausanne has held four historic congresses thus far, in 1974, 1989, 2010, and most recently in 2024.

Content

Fourfold Vision, The

The foundational vision of the Lausanne Movement: 1) The gospel for every person; 2) disciple-making churches for every people and place; 3) Christlike leaders for every church and sector; and 4) kingdom impact in every sphere of society.

Generations Conversation (LGC23)

A gathering held in California, US in May 2023. As the next generation prepares to accelerate global mission towards 2050, the Generations Conversation gathering facilitated intentional intergenerational connecting, convening, communities, and collaboration for global mission in the coming decades.

Generations Department

Lausanne Generations exists to equip younger leaders for global missions and foster intergenerational collaboration across the Lausanne Movement and beyond. The Generations department is led by Nana Yaw Offei Awuku.

Global Listening Report

Between September 2020 and July 2021, Lausanne's regions and issue networks hosted more than 35 global listening calls, resulting in a detailed report. This report was compiled by the Global Listening Team, led by Eiko Takamizawa and Steve Sang-Cheol Moon.

Intercession Working Group

A working group that focuses on growing prayer support for the Lausanne Movement specifically and for global mission broadly. This group is led by Sarah Plummer.

Issue Networks

Lausanne issue networks exist to connect and catalyse Christians and evangelical influencers in a particular field or interest for global mission through gatherings focused on biblical prayer, reflection, training, and ministry action. Tanya Van Horne oversees the issue networks.

Lausanne 4

A multi-year, global, polycentric process facilitated by the platform of Lausanne, towards the catalytic collaboration of the global church, for the discipling of all nations and the shaping of the world in 2050. Also known as L4.

Lausanne Covenant, The

A call and commitment of the global church to world evangelization. A product of Lausanne 1974, the Covenant seeks to unite evangelicals in their vision and mission as God's people in the world.

Historically important documents that have emerged from global consultations of evangelical influencers convened by the Lausanne Movement, also known as LOPs.

Manila Manifesto, The

A public declaration of evangelical convictions, intentions, and motives which calls 'the whole church to take the whole gospel to the whole world'. The first section of the Manifesto is a series of 12 succinct biblical affirmations of the church, and the second section elaborates and commends those 12 affirmations for further study and action. This key document emerged from the Manila 1989 Congress.

Operations Team

The Lausanne staff who are responsible for the day-to-day functioning of the operational aspects of the Movement. These include human resources, finances, staffing matters, assistance with calls, and technical support. In the context of a gathering such as the Seoul-Incheon 2024 Congress, the operations team is involved in participant registrations and gathering logistics. Sarah White is Lausanne's chief operations officer.

Platform

Lausanne invites people of diverse backgrounds to a shared platform where they can express their ideas towards the discipling of the nations and shaping of the world for the next generations. A shared platform encourages 'global reach, local expression' by inviting participation from the global church which includes international influencers, as well as pastors of small local churches.

Polycentric

Actively inviting others to participate and lead together. Polycentric leadership relies on collaboration within diverse teams across multiple centers of operation. The polycentric approach is uniquely suited to engage the leadership issues, challenges, and opportunities we face in the world today.

Public Reading of Scripture, The

Listening to one another, and especially listening to God was an important aspect of the Lausanne 4 Journey. We believe in the importance of regularly coming together to hear Scripture read aloud in a communal environment. This was facilitated weekly through Listening to God's Word Together Calls (L2G) leading up to the Fourth Lausanne Congress and publicly reading Scripture at gatherings.

Region

One of the 12 geographic areas of the world in which Lausanne is involved. Each region seeks to both contribute and contextualize region-specific content and action plans.

Regional Director

A person who leads one of the 12 Lausanne regions, working closely with a support group to connect influencers and ideas in their region through networking, regional consultations, and contextualized communications to and from their region. Joshua Bogunjoko serves as the global associate director for regions.

Senior Staff
