- FINAL EXAM

>>By the end of this program you will have a library of educational content you can use with clients to deliver the Daily Method and the Open-Minded Approach. It is the responsibility of the apprentice to mention if the syllabus needs to be adjusted in any way to reflect something closer in alignment to their preferred way to train or deliver training. There are no refunds to this program. You may opt to do the payment plan if you'd like to see if the program is for you, month-by-month, without the full commitment.

>>You will also understand how the Open-Minded Approach is applied across such a wide, diverse population, and how you can begin to provide accessible, affordable virtual training within your own current or startup business.

>>This program complies with the guidelines for compassionate, ethical training under the CCPDT and is worth 21 (knowledge) hours of CEs (continuing education credits) for those licensed with the CCPDT (Certification Council for Professional Dog Trainers).

>>Direct, consistent contact with Jerri, who checks her Slack Channels every 24 hours M-F. You may also DM thru Slack any time.

>>If testing within the calendar year for CCPDT certifications, Jerri will provide your attestation letter required given you have the other requirements to sit for testing, and can provide those to Jerri.
