About Us:

Moon.unit is an emerging project out of Boston, a brainchild of three New England Conservatory students. The group features Koki Renwick on trumpet, synth, and electronics, Jake Walters on piano, synth bass, and vocals, and Dom Vance on drums, electronics, and percussion. moon.unit experimentally combines the styles of modern jazz, free and noise music, hip-hop, and pop genres into a unique listening experience. Although being based in Boston, moon.unit has performed in Denver CO, Albuquerque New Mexico, and New Hampshire.
