

ArtyFae Commissions: Terms of Service

Thank you for your interest in commissioning me! Before you submit an inquiry, please make sure you have read this document IN FULL!

Please note: at least half payment must be received by me before I start your commission. The remaining sum must be sent before the finished piece is delivered.

- I have the right to cancel at any time. Full refunds are given ONLY if I personally have to cancel on you, or the drawing process has not started.
- You do not retain the right to my art after you have canceled a commission. Do NOT bring my unfinished art to another artist or finish it yourself.

What you can do with my art:

- Repost with credit (preferably linking to my website or Instagram, but any socials are acceptable)
- Claim the right to the character design, but not the illustration/artwork.
- Use for personal use as long as credit is given if displayed publicly. Do not sell my work without my permission/contract.
  - Crop for icon/device background usage (credit appreciated!)
- Change details in the design when drawing/commissioning other artists.

What you CANNOT do with my art:

- Claim my art as your own/remove any form of watermark or signature from it.
- ANYTHING INVOLVING AI GENERATION.
- Anything involving NFTs of any kind.
- Repost my art without credit.
- Edit my artwork without permission or have another artist finish/edit it.
  - This includes Work-In-Progress images.
- Any form of monetization/reselling of my work unless spoken to prior. Unless we discuss contractual work, you do not have the right to sell my art in any form.

By commissioning me, you acknowledge that:

- I have the right to refuse any order for any reason. JUST submitting a request does not equate to your work being complete.
- I retain the rights to my work. This includes: displaying my work on social media & my portfolio, using it for self-promotion & as examples, making a profit, etc.
  - Unless contracted otherwise / NDA / etc.
  - I will not claim the rights to your character, just the artwork.
- If there is a deadline requirement, it should be brought up to me BEFORE the commission process begins, and there may be an added fee.
- Base prices are subject to change.
- I will not “copy” other artist’s styles. If you have poses or outfits for reference/inspiration, that’s fine, but my work will not be an exact copy of it.
- Make sure you have enough money for basic needs. Art is a luxury, not a necessity. Your health and needs come first.
- Tips are appreciated, but not necessary!

| I Will Draw                                     | I WON'T Draw                                                                                                          |
|---------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Original characters (including furries/anthros, animals, etc) | hateful/offensive content                                                                                                           |
| Fan art                                                       | bestiality/zoophilia/anything sexual with animals                                                                                   |
| Ship art (of original characters or real people)              | → UNLESS they are not in a relationship, or with EXPLICIT permission from the couple                                                |
| TTRPG/MMO characters (including parties)                      | Political statements                                                                                                                |
| Items, weapons, accessories (including armor)                 | Sensitive topics I’m not comfortable with (unless seen here, I will let you know if I’m not comfortable with something)             |
| Violence/gore/suggestive content of adult characters          | → Explicit NSFW (especially no underaged/aged-up characters) or extreme fetish art. Please ask if you are unsure (I don’t judge :P) |