

Write down the answers for the following questions to send to Jesse with your work.

This is to make sure that you think about your story before you send it out. Jesse will also answer these questions so you can compare your answers.

Summarize your story in one sentence. Do not detail specific actions or events.

List your main characters in order of importance, along with their personalities, motivations, and most important action over the course of the story.

What is the main conflict in your story? How does your main character contribute to this?

What is the resolution? How does your main character contribute to this?

What is the theme of the story? i.e., What allows/disallows the protagonist's success?
