

It was the kind of night I knew I would remember for the rest of my life. We were going to a party in the house of one of my friends from university. His parents were out all weekend, when we arrived we were astonished. The house was like a mansion, I know that he had a big house but I will never think in something like that. I thought that will be plenty of people in the house, but for our surprise we were the first group who arrived.

We were a bit disappointed because in our minds we had the idea of a massive party with a lot of people. For our peace of mind, our friend told us that we were the first ones to come because he wanted to show us the car collection of her father.

So we went to the garage. I was so impressed, Lamborghini, Ferrari, Bugatti, Aston Martin, all kind of cars but that was not the best part. Our friend told us that Fernando Alonso was in the house, and each one of us could choose a car and Fernando Alonso would take us for a ride. After that we went to the party with Alonso. And this is how the best night of my life happened.
