General Instructions

Your primary responsibility is to ensure the safety of the competitors. We do this by monitoring their progress through the course. We must be observant and respond to situations quickly and calmly. In the event of an emergency, remain calm, assess the situation, and contact HQ or a Race Director (see Event Protocol). We will never ask you to put yourself into a compromising situation in order to help others. We want you to take care of yourself out there as well so ask for help if you need it.

SAFETY COMES FIRST. Assisting a racer in need is encouraged with non-medical issues. In the event of medical distress, racers do not have the right to make unsafe choices or proceed when they are not fit to do so. Notify HQ immediately if you have any concerns about the condition of any runners. We do not expect volunteers to treat injuries, so it is important to keep the administration informed.

Volunteers should set up water on the tables provided and set out food packages. Radio HQ when you receive your first runner.

What to Bring

Make sure you also have enough gear to keep yourself comfortable during the race. You will be camping in the mountains and it can get pretty cold at night. There can also be blistering heat during the day.

Some items to consider bringing:

- Warm jacket & rain gear
- Sleeping bag & pad
- Tent or shelter
- Cookstove & cooking gear
- Food & water for two days
- Toilet paper, toothpaste, toothbrush, and other personal needs
- Sunscreen, bug repellent
- A folding chair
- A book or magazine

Sinister 7 Ultra Volunteer Instructions

- Blanket
- Warm socks
- Gloves
- Toque
- Sunhat
- Battery-powered charger and charge cord for your phone (don't expect service in remote CPs)
- Flashlight and spare batteries (CP/TA will have lighting for the tents)
- Whistle - In case you need someone to find you or to scare away animals

Site Etiquette

We want you to be safe and comfortable while you are volunteering while considering the needs of the racers. Please avoid idling your vehicle; we are working around athletes who are very cognizant of their health, and this will help keep the exhaust in the area to a minimum.

All sites come equipped with toilet paper, garbage bags and hand sanitizer. If you have to walk away from the site, please let someone else know. Bring back any toilet paper and dispose of it properly and use water and hand sanitizer before handling the food. Keep the checkpoint area clean, tidy and easy for the racers to get through without any tripping hazards.

The food we provide is for the racers although volunteers are welcome to partake. However, we do recommend you bring any substantial food you need, particularly if you have specific dietary requirements or have an extended shift to cover.

Timing Duties

As a racer passes your location, enter their bib number in the timing app (see tablet instructions in your binder). It is critical that you record their number so stop them if you have to! Only use the paper sheets in your binder if there is a system failure, and you are instructed to do so.

Communications

- The Coordinator, or designate, must report when the first runner arrives at the TA and when the last runner departs.
- When communicating on the radio, do not ask for multiple people such as, "HQ or Medic". Always use one specific contact name.
- One Race Director will be assigned as the primary contact during each period of the race.
- Use the recipient's call sign and then your call sign (ie: your location) when trying to reach someone on the radio. For instance, if you are at TA1 and trying to reach HQ the proper call is, "HQ from TA1". Please see our Radio Protocol document for more information on using the radio.
- To reach a medic, use the sequence Medic – Location (eg: Medic TA4 from HQ).
- Keep all communications brief, and politely remind other users if necessary.
