

Terms of Service

FurAffinity: Krugell

Twitter: KrugellArt

Telegram: KrugellArt

Toyhouse: Krugell

!Currently I'm active on furaffinity, twitter, telegram and Toyhouse Any other sites are not mine!

1.General

By commissioning me you agree to these terms of service.

- I have the right to alter these terms of service, any changes made will not affect clients who have agreed to previous terms.

2.Payment

- Payment is made through paypal, I accept bank transfers on condition that you cover the international tax.
 - Prices are not negotiable unless stated otherwise.
 - I do not start working until payment has been received for my own safety.
- You must cover the fee if you're paying via paypal. I work only for the full received amount. Client gets full refund if;
 - I had to cancel the commission for some reason (which will be stated)

3.Work method

- I finish commissions in order they have been requested, however, sometimes due to creative reasons, later commissions may be finished first.
- I will always show finished sketches waiting for clients approval before I start working on it further.
 - I do not make adjustments on finished pieces unless you cover a fee (price is for negotiation depending on how big the change is.)

4.Image rights

- By default, I retain full rights to my artwork. Full rights entail the right of use, publish, re-post and alter the artwork as I wish, as well as selling prints of the artwork. (I do not offer such service yet)
- My clients have the right to repost the artwork. They also may use their commissioned picture publicly for icons, banners without my written permission.
 - My commissioners have the right to print commissioner artwork for their private use.
- If the work is meant for commercial use with selling in mind, I have the right to add additional fee for such uses. (depending on type of work)
 - For client wish, artwork won't be shared anywhere except with the commissioner.
 - Client cannot alter/edit any artwork without my written permission.

5.Deadlines & Updates

- By default I have within three months to complete the artwork.
- I aim to keep my clients up to date with status of their commission. Please do not ask me for updates more than once a week.

5.Artist Notes

- I do not work without clear and visible reference sheets, unless you commission me to make them beforehand.
- As an adult individual I expect my clients to treat me as such, and I will treat them as equal.
- You don't have to maintain very professional speech, nor you have to adress me with honorifics. Just maintain a rather polite attitude towards me.