Real quick guys - each episode represents over 30 hours of my personal work, not including my production team's time.

I'm building this podcast to become the #1 resource for Business Acquisitions, and the only way that's gonna be through your feedback.

So, Please drop a comment with a timestamp for the parts that you found valuable or not helpful. If you are on Audio platforms you can leave a review.

This will help me understand what you like and don't like so I can create exactly the content you want to see.

Thank you for your support. Now, back to the podcast.
