

(Name), you've got some amazing content. You have one of the best bodies, some of the best content, and a ton of credibility. Everything is set up perfectly for you to be highly successful in the fitness industry.

However, something that would propel you to greater success faster would be having the best copywriter. Look, I've seen your website and we could take it from good to ASTONISHING.

We can create a page that makes even the fattest and laziest people look at it and feel the need to take immediate action to become great like (Name).

I would love to discuss this further with you. Please DM me if interested.

Have a wonderful day.
