Yiga and Sheikah Lore

Yiga Clan

(source material)

The Yiga clan is an outlaw group of ninjas that claim serve the great demon queen Demise. The original Yiga were a group of Sheikah that split from the main tribe centuries ago and still harbor a grudge against their sister tribe. During the recent war the Yiga sided with Ganondorf's forces and were mostly wiped out, with only a few remaining. The yiga suffer from a curse that they can not actually say they want Links dick, the only way they can communicate that is by saying they want the "mighty banana," this has had long lasting effects on them.

Sheikah

(source material)

The Sheikah tribe are a subset of Hylians who have devoted themselves to the royal line of Hyrule and the lineage of the champion of Hyrule. The society of the Sheikah has undergone drastic changes throughout the last 10,000 years. Originally an all female hyper advanced order of ninjas, the modern day version of the Sheikah are a simple farming society. The recent war and drought have taken a grave toll on them as most of their number have been lost, including most of their men.

Lending Link Out Timeline Lore

Ancient Lore

During the era of the goddess, Hylia created a special group of Hylians. Designed to be the perfect servants that would work to do her bidding, these servants were the Sheikah. The Sheikah were faster, stronger and smarter than any Hylian. The clan was almost entirely female, except for one male Sheikah created. This male was to become her Champion and was the first incarnation of the Champion of Hyrule. At first, the Sheikah prospered; due to their greater intelligence and lifespans, they were able to build wonders beyond imagining. To the point they were one of the most crucial factors in the Hylia vs Demise conflict.

After the conflict ended and as the champion gained his followers and admirers, Hylia grew jealous and began her era of cursing. The Sheikah were one of the last to feel her wrath but they were not spared. Hylia forbade them from siring with the champion, and told them to bury all their advanced technology. She told them they needed to live as the other hylians did.

Many of the Sheikah did not take well to this apparent betrayal by the Goddess they had so faithfully served and were angered that their one male so easily went along with Hylia's madness. These women split from the Sheikah and became the Yiga, vowing revenge against their former mistress and fleeing into the deserts.

The remaining Sheikah followed Hylia's orders and despite everything remained loyal to her throughout the ages of reincarnation. While both the Sheikah and the Yiga have changed culturally since the ancient era, both tribes have retained a great amount of their ancient traits. Both still are mostly woman, but still give birth to men, both have kept their traditional teachings in the martial arts. But without their connection to the champion, the descendants of the ancient sheikah have become almost identical in ability to their Hylian cousins. If a sheikah were to re-establish their connection with the champion of Hyrule, they would unlock their hidden potential.

Recent Past

The Sheikah and the Yiga were on opposing sides during the recent War between Zelda and Ganondorf. The Sheikah siding with Zelda and the Yiga siding with Ganondorf initially. It soon became clear to the Yiga that Ganondorf would be willing to sacrifice their entire tribe in pointless battles. This led to the Yiga abandoning him right before the battle of Ghoma's Fall.

Present

Currently both the Sheikah and the Yiga have had their numbers decimated due to the war and following drought. With the Yiga down to a small force of their all female elites and the Sheikah almost as bad. To make matters worse, the Sheikah have lost all their men. Some have fallen to the Cuco cult while others have embraced the technology of old and enhanced themselves beyond their mortal forms. Both groups no longer interested or able to produce the next generation.

Story Plans

Book of Sheikah sexual technique

Story is built like someone is reading chapters from a Sheikah style manual on relationships and sex. Each part having Link with a different girl.

Sheikah and Yiga

Paya goes to the Yiga in hopes of mending the divide between the two clans. Link arrives with the true history of the clans, showing that what the Yiga thought was a Banana statue is actually an old statue of the Champion's dick, so they have been worshiping Link's dick this whole time. Both clans agree to become one again and be the servants and consorts of the Champion. It is like the ancient clan with a few changes. They provide a way for women from other groups to join if they too want to be a full time consort to the Champion. When the Yiga clan's leader is impregnated by Link the Yiga clan symbol on the curse will break.

Sheikah-Yiga unification

The Yiga are invited to what's left of the Sheikah village in an attempt to mend the divisions of the sister tribes. The Yiga say they will only join the Sheikah if they get to fuck Link, their plan being to get super charged off of Link's essence and kill the Sheikah. This does not go as planned.

Yiga Yield

Unknown to most of Hyrule, Kakariko village is actually inhabited mostly by undercover Yiga clan members. They have been hiding in plain sight for most of their history, waiting for the right time to strike. Link was also born and raised in Kakariko village, not knowing that most of his childhood friends and neighbors were actually trained from birth to kill him. The Yiga clan, led by Telma, didn't realize themselves that Link was the reincarnation of the champion until after the war with Ganondorf had started. While many of the men left to fight in the war, the female Yiga stayed behind to provide intelligence and counterintelligence for Ganondorf's forces.

That changed after Ganondorf had used up all the Yiga men that had gone to join his forces. He sent orders for the rest of the Yiga women to attack the castle directly in a suicide mission. Telma ignored this order and cut ties with Ganondorf after that. Many of the remaining women had already been won over by Link at this point and lost all faith in Ganondorf.

Possible events

Telma - Telma is working overtime at the bar. They have been getting great info from all the soldiers coming and going but the work has been exhausting. She is not as young as she used to be and when the bar is finally empty she can barely stand up. She nods off and wakes up in her bed, she goes downstairs to see that Link has cleaned the place for her and probably carried her upstairs to her bed. While Telma knows she will have to kill him someday, she knows she can't risk breaking her cover so she simply kisses him on his cheek. But Link turns to her fast and ends up having the kiss be on his lips. Something flairs through Telma, something she hasn't felt since she was a young woman. Telma tries to play it off as Link being a naughty boy but Link then gives her a full open kiss. Telma despite knowing what Ganondorf would want her to do, decides to spoil herself and has sex with Link. This goes into a montage of her continuing to have sex with Link over several encounters, each time more of her ancient Sheika DNA is activated. She begins to get a more youthful appearance, both her breasts and ass become fuller and perkier, she becomes taller and her lips become fuller. By the time the Yiga have left Ganondorf's service, Telma has a super curvy milfy body.

Failed assassination attempts - each Yiga girl will attempt to assassinate Link at one point, with each attempt disguised as a date. Each girl fails because they become smitten with Link and each leading to sex offcourse

- Ilia - she convinces Link to help her ride Epona, with him riding behind her - intending to goad him into jumping the horse over a cavern and then throwing him off to his death midway across. This fails, partially because she's enjoying herself, partially because she feels him go hard against her ass.

- Uli - convinces Link to try to recover her cradle from a very high tree, which was prepared to break off and crush him beforehand. She can't go through with it, however, and knocks him out of the way when the tree starts to fall, winding up lying on top of him.

- Ashei - asks to spar with him, but as it's war time, they'll use real weapons. She plans to kill him, but he keeps skillfully disarming her, until eventually she gets mad and tackles him instead. They tumble, and he comes out on top, then kisses her and instincts take over.

- Hena and Iza - invites Link out on her fishing boat, intending to trap him in a net and drown him. However, Hena's impressed with his fishing ability and gets distracted, winding up caught in her own net and falling overboard. Link rescues her, returning to the boat where she and Iza change their plans.

- Madame Fanadi - Invites Link in for a divination, claiming she can help with something that he's gotten lost on. He goes in, and she asks him to choose the fortune he wants read as per the usual - she offers fate and love. She has set up several traps to kill him when he picks fate, but he picks love, startling her. She does her divination, which reveals her and Link fucking. It comes true really fast.

- Kina - The most naturally curvy and beautiful, she specializes in seduction. Her plan is to seduce him into sex, wear him out, then leave him in bed beneath a chandelier and drop it on him. Unfortunately, the one left passed out in bed afterwards is Kina. On the way out, Link disarms the chandelier trap just to be safe.

Groose notes <https://zelda.gamepedia.com/Groose>

Groose is dense and doesn't realize his mom (Telma) is a Yiga, despite making all the bombs for them.

Groose realizes she is a Yiga at the very end, but a giant bomb he was building goes off

The Sheika offer to restore him with the chamber or rebirth, but it will turn him into a female Sheika since they haven't modified it for anyone else other than sheikah and Link.

Groose is turned into Wauna. Wauna keeps having visions of her past as groose, wondering how she could have been so dense.
