

Is the doe-tag policy really working out for Ontario white-tail management? November 24, 2011

Canada

EMC Frontenac

According to canadawhitetails.com, the whitetail population of Ontario is 412,000. Compare that to Saskatchewan's population of 380,000.... In Saskatchewan, you can have two deer licenses, only the second of which is antlerless and they have .064 deer per square kilometre. In Ontario, you can only hunt an antlered deer unless you have an antlerless license and here we have 0.45 deer per square kilometre.