A2. Evidence of the quality of the research team

A2.1 All investigators are requested to append their Curriculum Vitae (CVs) (no more than 2 pages) to the application.

- Confirmation that CVs of all investigators have been appended to the application

A2.2 All investigators are requested to append a Research Opportunity and Performance Evidence Statement (minimum of 1 page) to the application.

Research Opportunity

Research opportunity encompasses all research activities that have contributed to and influenced the development of a researcher's career. Research activities should provide context for performance evidence, and focus on quality and impact relative to career stage and discipline expectations. It also incorporates any significant interruptions relating to career and/or life experiences, which have affected a researcher's capacity, productivity or contribution.

Performance Evidence

Performance evidence should be presented in the context of sector and discipline expectations, and demonstrate research quality, contributions to the research field and to the research sector. It incorporates all research activities, outputs and achievements evaluated in the context of research impact, as appropriate to each discipline and research opportunity.

- Confirmation that all investigators have appended a Research Opportunity and Performance Evidence Statement

A3. Valuing Voices: The Five Principles

1. How will you make your research project equitable and responsible?
2. What practical measures will you include in your research design to ensure it is equitably and responsibly delivered?

The Valuing Voices online tool can support you to answer this question, with prompt questions and resources to guide you. An introductory video to explain how to use the tool is also available.

(Please describe your approach in no more than 200 words.)
