Ways to help your student...

- Check Aeries regularly for all classes, red boxes mean missing assignments
- Check Agendas (class agenda emailed home and on Google Classroom, also student's school agenda for all classes)
- Encourage your student to use classroom and B3 time wisely
- Set aside at least twenty minutes per day for independent reading

More help!

- BOBCAT LEARNING LOUNGE: Tutoring is available for students in room 66 (Mrs. Lester) and 34 (Mr. Dellalonga) during the following days/times: Tues. Wed. Thurs. morning from 8am-8:45 and Thurs. afternoon from 3:30pm-4:30pm. Perfect for a quiet place to work and academic support in all content areas.

Things to Know

- Every Monday, we write down our homework for the entire week in our agendas. (ask your student)
- Every Monday, I send out an email with an agenda for the week to the parents/students, including materials, reminders, class activities, and due dates.

Late Work Policy

- Students may email me about personal situations that may require an extension on due dates
- Homework assignments receive half credit
- Projects/Essays accepted late each day late = -1 letter grade

Absences and Make-up work

- Upon your return from an absence, check weekly agendas and with your class peers and refer to our Google Classroom for information about the day(s) and notes you missed.

- For any other concerns (make-up tests, etc.), please email me or talk to me at the end of the period, at break, or after school.

Novels

- Freak the Mighty by Rodman Philbrick
- The Giver by Lois Lowry
- The Outsiders by S.E Hinton

Reading Adventure

- Students should have a Reading Adventure book with them at all times.
- Students should be reading an average minimum of 16 minutes per night.
- During weekly reading time in class, students will report progress with book and answer questions about plot, theme, and characters etc. (Google Form)
- Every quarter, students will complete a project about their book.

Appreciated donations: Tissues (and more tissues!), sharpened pencils, glue sticks, disinfecting wipes, tree-nut-free snacks for hungry kids, bottled water

Thank you for coming tonight!
