

I used to copy and paste this every time I wanted art, now I just share the document. It's still formatted like a reply on a thread and I don't feel like changing it XD

Note: For some commissions, certain specifications aren't applicable, like color. Don't take anything too literally. :)

Me likey. ^-^

I'd love it if you could draw my OC, Maeve! I'm also going to be specific with what I want, if it's too complicated or anything please let me know but I find it best to give too much versus too little. :)

Ok, so, I'm very chill and will love whatever you do so feel free to take liberties with the details. Eye color is blue and she has Pastel Pink / Rose Gold hair down to the top of her butt. She is my D&D character so she is a half-elf who is ~5'6" and 130lbs. She also has pale tan skin, like a regular human. I'm not picky so, again, feel free to do whatever you think would look good. :)

Something that might help you is her personality. She is very charismatic and embodies the definition of a Hufflepuff. Always wants to help but she's not weak and can squash you like a bug if you hurt her or her friends. She is an entertainer so she wants to make people happy but she has a loose tongue and has trouble with sharing too much. She is very flamboyant and outgoing and she loves pearlescent and pastel colors and lace and she is a half-elf druid so she loves nature, animals, and flowers.

The color palette is a mix of pastel colors and bright colors especially pastel PINK!, white, light blue, and purple. There can be some brighter colors but pastel pink and white I think should be a big part of it.

The overall feel is something like this but not the outfit or the hair

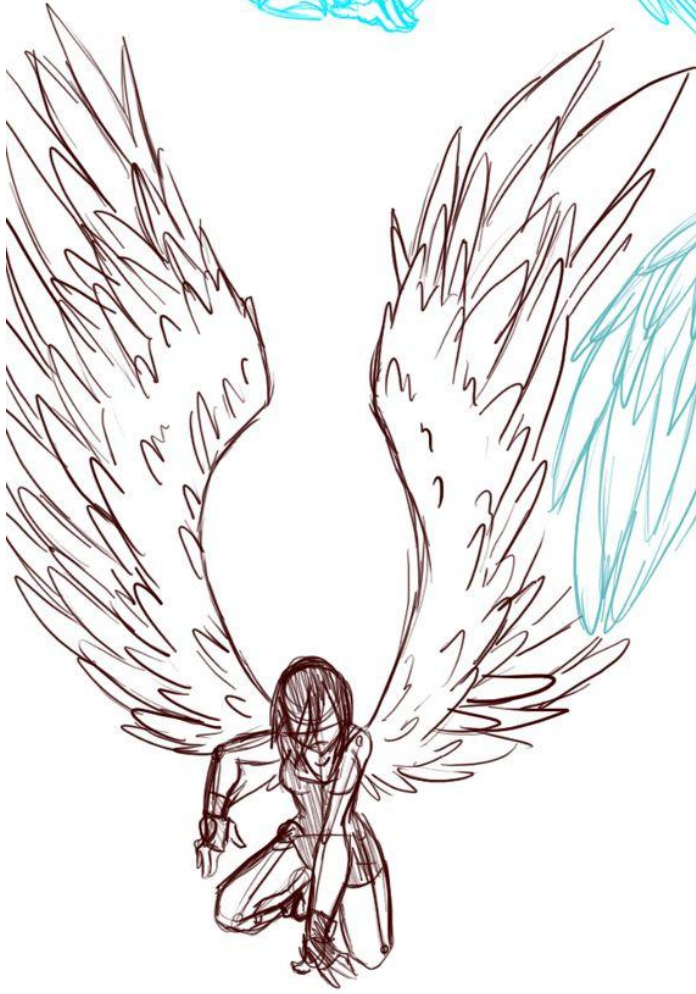

The outfit could probably be something like this but with the color palette I discussed. If possible, I want the outfit to be skin tight with some frillier things around it like feathers, and leaves. Maybe even make the outfit a bit revealing, she's an adventurer so she doesn't want clothes getting in the way, and she kind of just threw together something to wear with whatever she found lying around. Oo and a flower crown could look cool, sorry I keep thinking of stuff XD. I also love the idea of her wearing elbow-length gloves with some vines and leaves wrapping up her arms.

Last thing, if you can, I'd love for you to draw her enormous wings with her. They look something like this and match the rest of her color scheme (pale pink, purple, and white). Just for reference, her wings are huge. I want them to be as anatomically correct as human wings can be and in order to actually lift somebody off the ground, wings would need to be 3 times the person's height, so around 17 foot wingspan. :)

This is one of the best examples of what I imagine her to be like
