North Elementary School

September 20

As we wrap up the first month of school, I wanted to take a moment to share how things have been going in our classrooms.

We've had a wonderful start to the year! During these first few weeks, our main focus has been building a strong classroom community and setting clear expectations for behavior, learning, and collaboration. Establishing routines early on helps students feel confident and supported, and it sets the tone for a successful year ahead.

Together, we've been learning what it means to be respectful, responsible, and ready to learn—whether that's during lessons, group work, or transitions throughout the day. Your children have been doing a fantastic job practicing these expectations, and I'm proud of the progress they've already made.

In addition to expectations, we've also begun easing into our core subjects and exploring how we learn best as a group and as individuals. It's been a joy getting to know each student and seeing their personalities and strengths shine.

Thank you for your continued support at home. When school and home work together, it makes a world of difference for your child's experience and success. If you ever have questions or would like to connect, please don't hesitate to reach out.

Sincerely,

Mr. Fuehrer
Principal
