

Event and Parking Information for Hudson Valley People's Climate March Hudson NY Saturday April 29, 2017

The Basics

The Rally - 11am - Public Square/7th Street Park - Warren and 7th Streets

The March - Noon - Steps off from Public Square - End Up at Basilica Hudson - 110 South Front St

The Meet Up - 1pm - Area in front of Kite's Nest at Basilica Hudson - 110 South Front St

The Rally begins at 11am at Hudson's Public Square which is also referred to as 7th Street Park. At around Noon The March will begin. The March will step off from Public Square and travel down Warren Street to Front Street then travel South to Basilica Hudson which is located at 110 South Front Street, a little beyond the Hudson Amtrak Station. The March route is a total of 1.24 miles one way.

There is a municipal lot just West of the Rally on Columbia Street between 6th and 5th Street. In addition there is a big office building just East of the Rally where Columbia Street, State Street and Green Street all converge (Signs for Register Star and Key Bank are on the building). If by some chance those are full, there is another municipal lot at the corner of Union Street and 7th Street which is sparsely used since it's more out of the way.

If you wind up parking on the street at a meter (mostly around Warren Street, note that meter rules are in effect even on Saturday from 9-5. ($0.25 per hour). We believe the municipal lots are free on Saturday, but check what it says on the meter.

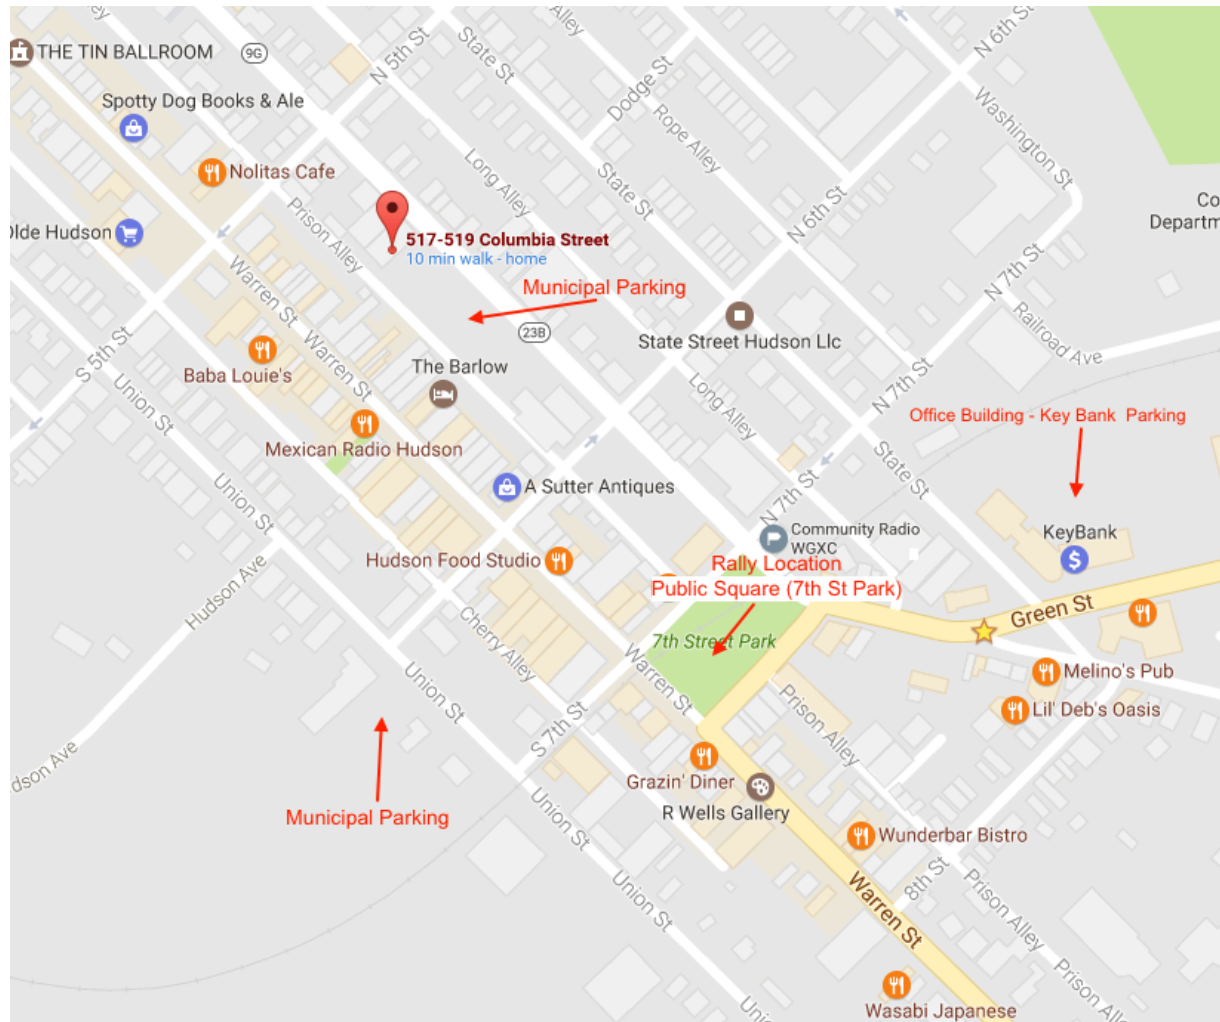

If you park on the street where there is no meter, you may park on either side of the street until midnight.

The March goes from the Public Square at 7th Street and Warren to Basilica Hudson which is just beyond the Amtrak Station on Front Street. It is 1.24 miles. So you can also consider parking at a mid point so you don't have to walk all the way back to the starting point. If you do this, Allen Street or Union Street below 3rd Street are your best bets. Free street parking, either side until midnight.
