

The assassination attempt, when the candidate turned his head as the bullet only nicked his ear, was stamped with Godprints. But God is not simplistic. What it means is deserving of continuous curiosity. The chosen of God are not chosen for glory. Soon understanding clarifies that the candidate, like each of us, is what he chooses to be, not fashioned by God. Thus it is more like taking advantage of an opportunity; "I think we can use this guy." For what? The answer reveals as time passes and events unfold. First original truth is affirmed. God only assists. God does not intend to live the life that has been given each of us to live. Godprint events, whether personal or universal, intend to confound expectation, to challenge the hubris of intellectual certainty. As was written previously, obdurate ignorance is the unforgiveable sin. Quitting. Death should never have become, but now is, the teaching moment for minds that have not learned to accept their own immortality.

Jews were chosen, by covenant, to be performers in God's opera. Long ago they were given land, not to possess, but to be exiled from, to demonstrate the temporal nature of human life on earth. Zionism and Christian nationalism are fraudulent theology. All religions are intended by God to defend the obvious truth that humans are alien to the planet. God is spirit and ones born of God, Resurrection stories notwithstanding, are eternal spirit.

Aryan Christianity is false theology. Body worship of every kind supplants spiritual contemplation. Misapplied secular law enforces errant theology including retributive punishment. God strives for forgiveness and understanding. Still the idea of rule by secular law must be preserved. Might is not right, and power comes in many forms, even as law. God blesses the ideas of America, the Declaration of Independence and the Preamble to the Constitution, that these would become the standards of our lives.

Each of us is given life to become images of God. Earth is our proving ground, Heaven is our home. Images of God are born with creative minds, but our creations, if outside God's blessing, will prove to fail. How we, as eternal spirit, come to inhabit physical bodies is worthy of curiosity and contemplation, including the consideration that that may recur after failure.

After the love commandments, with heart, soul and mind, our full spirit being born of God, the question is asked, "Who is my neighbor?" The response is the story of the Good Samaritan. The story is about events in a walking life. A walking life is personal, physically near, interactions with another person which, because of our spirit being, are spirit connections. God is the thread in spirit connections. Spirit connections do not occur electronically.

It has been written that we cannot know everything about God but we can know something. When we fall in love with another or when another falls in love with us, what we love is Love itself which is God. We are all carriers of God in the divinity of each us that God sustains, which we call soul. When we are true to our spirit being, Love emanates from our soul to attract another's spirit heart and that reciprocates. Minds gain understanding as mystery and surprise abound, God with us. Yet the knowableness of God, which is Love, is only recognized by spirit heart. That Love is Thy kingdom come. Our openness to it is Thy will be done. The work of minds, which are wary of mortality, is to ignore external influence and learn from within. Then we can understand Heaven. Loving without bodies. Hearts and souls interfusing. Minds agreeable, patient. Completion. The broken pieces of the Sonship finally come together.
