

Today's the Day

© Monica Jensen 2008, Production 2019

Thunder rolls on, lightning cracks

I'm huddle up, reflecting back...reflecting ba-a-a-ack

Misery again, will it ever e-e-end?

Hey-ey-ey, I'm openin' up the blinds

To see the day-ay-ay-ay-ay

It's been a while since I've really smiled

Hey-ey-ey, today's the day

Hey-ey-ey, today's the day I choose to smile

I'm told outsi-i-ide, colors of promises bend across the sky

Budding flowers, ready to unfold

After this winter passes by, so dark and cold

I think I see the sun peeking through the clou-ouds

I'm looking for the light to grow more.....mo-o-o-ore

Hey-ey-ey, I'm openin' up the blinds

To see the day-ay-ay-ay-ay

It's been a while since I've really smiled

Hey-ey-ey, today's the day

Hey-ey-ey, I'm openin' up the blinds

To see the day-ay-ay-ay-ay

It's been a while since I've really smiled

Hey-ey-ey, today's the day

Hey-ey-ey, today's the day