For clarity's sake, I will refer to Kijuusii as Kiju for the remainder of this doc. They are called Kiwi in screenshots.

Earlier today I was messaged by someone who wants to remain anonymous about a situation they were wanting advice on. Anon does not come up often as most of this is already documented behaviors, but for the sake of comprehensiveness, I will refer to anon as J.

There is another person addressed who I will be keeping anonymous which I will refer to as Y

J asked me for help because recently Kiju had contacted them in a panic telling them that someone was threatening to show Y a doc that was a call out of their past conduct.

Confused, J had to repeatedly ask them to clarify what they meant before Kiju finally admitted they were a user known as Zemaroon a few years ago.

You don't need to go into details. I just really need to understand if this is something severe or not

The Moment - Zemaroon - New Dangan Ronpa V3: Everyone's New Semester...

An Archive of Our Own, a project of the Organization for Transformative Works

Kiju did not further clarify why this was bad so J had to do research of their own and found a video made by Jamie, the creator of Amalgamate that called out all of their actions.

This goes over everything touched on in the TWs. Watch here:
<https://youtu.be/d-63p3WenQg?is=pniEheYw3FohJsBP>

TL;DR for those who don't want to watch the video:

Kiju, (called Zem in the video and was 22-23 during this time) used to be in the server for the popular oumota fic Amalgamate which was created by someone named Jamie. During their time there, they left after pushback from other members when they repeatedly guilt tripped others about not liking their art enough and receiving criticism they asked for.

This spiraled in a months-long hate and harassment campaign against the server and Jamie which included involving a minor, referred to as Nathan (who is 13-14 through the video,) throughout the video, to exchange messages about them receiving 'harassment' on Tumblr that called them out for guilt tripping and suicide baiting in the server.

In talking to Nathan, Jamie learned more and eventually Nathan stopped being friends with Kiju due to how demanding they were emotionally. They also revealed multiple screenshots and conversations where Kiju made sexual jokes and innuendo towards this minor as well as HEAVY REPEATED use of the N word. (Kiju is not black.) Kiju also had this minor repeatedly buy him multiple gifts, including a $130+ figure. 😭

Kiju also referred to Nathan with nicknames that include “Honey” and “baby”

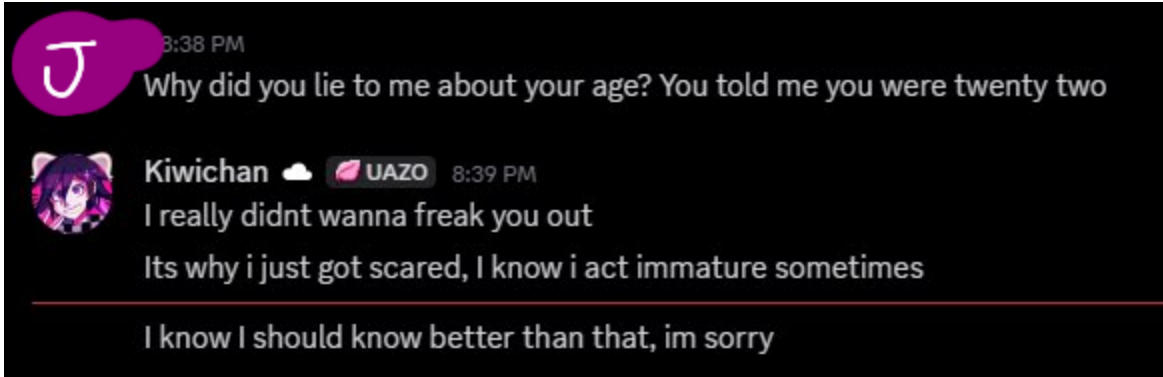

Kiju also made repeated death threats towards Jamie, Jamie's house, as well as just insistent harassment against Jamie in Nathan's DMs. This harassment and death threats were also directed at others in the server including minors.

Again, for a detailed look I would heavily recommend watching the video as it includes even more details of the things listed above that I didn't mention to keep things brief.

Kiju has not only not made a change in their behaviors of guilt-tripping and showing little empathy to others, (id love to include screenshots, but their Twitter is deactivated,) but is still hiding their past, lying about their age to others, and is re-entering spaces to which they have caused direct damage and trauma.

Lying about age and admitting it:

I believe people can change, but when a line is crossed to this degree and they still show the same pattern of guilt-tripping to this day, then it is well within a community's right to decide whether or not that person belongs back.

Please make an informed decision of how you feel and do what you feel is best.
