Subject line: And i shut the phone and stared into nothingness, my next move could either make or break me

I had finally started making money from this side hustle and things were going according to plan

Then it all came down like a domino effect.

First i got fired, then my wife left me, took the house and the car.

All i had left was my laptop and my will to make it all back but how?

I had seen hustlers university through andrew tate and had put my last money to enroll in hustlers university

I was homeless for 3 months, sleeping on a different sidewalk every day, sometimes in a mcdonalds, but this only gave me more motivation to push harder and make money fast!

My first money came from partnering with an old friend of mine, i gave him a free sample of my works and he liked them to the point where i make monthly projects for him

Soon after i made my first 1000$ and could finally afford rent

If i had not pushed when it was the hardest to keep pushing, i would have never made it out of being homeless
