Oklahoma City, which has won five consecutive games with this victory, has 57 wins and 25 losses.

The Denver Nuggets, led by Nikola Jokic, who is likely to be the MVP of the regular league, also tied with 57 wins and 25 losses with a 126-111 victory over the Memphis Grizzlies on the same day, but fell to one win and three losses in their entire showdown to finish second.

In the West, Oklahoma City, Denver, Minnesota Timberwolves, Los Angeles Clippers, Dallas and Phoenix Suns finished in the sixth place.

In the NBA, the 6th place in each conference will go straight to the playoffs, and the 7th to 10th places will play a play-in tournament to decide two teams to play in the PO.

The Western Play-In Tournament finalists were confirmed by the New Orleans Pelicans, Los Angeles Lakers, Sacramento Kings and the Golden State Warriors.

Golden State, which has league representative resources such as Stephen Curry, will continue its season in 10th place, the PO Maginot Line.

At the top of the Eastern Conference standings table was Boston, which confirmed the top spot early on.

Boston, which finished the regular league with 64 wins and 18 losses, ranked first in the NBA with a 78% winning rate.

Following Boston, the New York Knicks, Milwaukee Bucks, Cleveland, Cavaliers, Orlando Magic, and Indiana Pacers formed the top six and went straight to the PO.

After that, the Philadelphia 76ers, Miami Heat, Chicago Bulls and Atlanta Hawks sit at No. 10, playing a play-in tournament.

The FLY-IN tournament, which marks the start of the NBA PO, will begin at 8:30 a.m. on the 17th with a showdown between New Orleans and the Los Angeles Lakers.
