DISCLOSURES AND DISCLAIMER

@BSTOCKS7 and/or its officers, directors, owners, managers, affiliates and control persons (collectively the "Publisher") are paid to publish favorable information (the "Information") about publicly traded companies (Individually an "Issuer" or collectively the "Issuers") listed on the NASDAQ Stock Exchange ("NASDAQ"), New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") and the OTC Markets on X (the "Platform"). The Information disseminated by the Publisher is an advertisement.

Because the Publisher is paid to disseminate the Information to the public, the Publisher is required by the securities laws, including Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule 10b-5 thereunder, and Section 17(b) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), to specifically disclose certain information to you regarding its compensation, including the nature and amount of compensation. The anti-fraud provisions of state and federal securities laws require the Publisher to inform you that the Paying Party and its affiliates may engage in buying and selling of the Issuers' securities before, during and after the Publication of the Information.

The Publisher has agreed to be paid $175.00 USD (before deduction of bank and PayPal charges and fees) to publish the Information on this Platform about Citius Oncology, Inc. (Nasdaq: CTOR) for a period beginning on October 26, 2026, and ending on October 26, 2026.

By reading the Information and visiting the Platform, you agree you have not relied on the Information and agree to indemnify, defend and hold the Publisher harmless from any liability for any claimed direct, indirect, incidental, punitive, or consequential damages pertaining to your receipt of the Information without limitation.

The persons and/or entities paying the Publisher and their officers, directors, owners, managers, affiliates and control persons may hold and control a significant amount of the public float of the Issuers which they intend to sell while publishing favorable information about the Issuers.

The Information is neither a solicitation to buy nor an offer to sell securities. The Information is not intended to be used as a source of information for making an investment decision. The Information is not intended and should not be used for trading or investment purposes.

The Information provides de minimis information about the Issuers and is only a brief favorable snapshot of the Issuers subject to the Information which may not be accurate or reliable. The Information consists of only positive content, is not objective and does not include any negative information about the Issuers whatsoever; accordingly, you should consider the Information to be one-sided and not balanced, complete, accurate, truthful or reliable.

The Publisher is not liable for your use of the Information or any success or failure that is directly or indirectly related to your use of the Information, including misinformation, omissions, errors or delays in providing or updating the Information, or for any actions taken by third parties in reliance upon the Information.

The Publisher is not objective or independent, and its publishing of the Information involves actual and material conflicts of interest, including:
(i) the Publisher is paid to publish favorable information about the Issuers;
(ii) the Publisher does not publish negative information because it is not paid to do so; and

(iii) the Publisher is paid to publish the (favorable) Information about the Issuers advising others, including you, to purchase the Issuers' securities; and while doing so, the party paying and/or its officers, directors, owners, managers, affiliates and control persons (collectively the "Paying Party") may plan to sell their shares of the Issuers.

The Information may recommend, encourage or cause investors to purchase the Issuers' shares while the Paying Party sells their shares of the Issuers. When the Paying Party sells their shares, the Issuers' stock price may decline and thereby dramatically reduce the price at which investors can sell their shares. When the Publisher stops disseminating the Information, the stock of the Issuer may decline dramatically. As such, investors who purchase the Issuers' shares during the Publication of the Information will likely pay inflated prices. The Paying Party may sell the Issuers' securities for less than the target prices set forth in the Information. The Paying Party and its affiliates may make substantial profits by selling their securities during the Publication of the Information while investors experience losses.

The Publisher makes no warranty or representation about the Information, including its completeness, accuracy, truthfulness or reliability, and disclaims, expressly and impliedly, all warranties of any kind, including whether the Information is complete, accurate, truthful, or reliable and as such, your use of the information is at your own risk. The Information is provided "as is" without any warranties of any kind without limitation. The Publisher does not verify or confirm any portion of the Information and does not conduct any due diligence or research on any aspect of the Information, including the completeness, accuracy, truthfulness or reliability of the Information.

Investors should not rely upon the Information for any purpose and should contact a licensed investment advisor and their legal advisor and review all documents and information about the Issuers with the assistance of such advisors, including documents publicly filed on www.sec.gov and/or http://www.OTCMarkets.com to obtain information about the Issuers.

Before investing in any public company, including the Issuers, you should conduct your own in-depth investigation with the assistance of your legal, tax and investment advisors of the Issuers' financial condition, operations, management, products or services, trends in the industry, the Issuers' trading history, short sale positions and risks that may be material to its business and other information you and your advisors deem material to an investment decision. This investigation should include, but not be limited to, a review of available public sources and information you receive directly from http://www.OTCMarkets.com and www.sec.gov.

The Publisher is not and does not act in the capacity of any of the following and is not qualified to do so; as such, you should not construe the Publisher's activities as involving any of the following:

- An independent advisor or consultant;
- Providing investment advice or acting in the capacity of an investment adviser or engaging in activities that would be deemed to be providing investment advice that requires registration either at the federal or state level;
- Broker-dealer activities or acting in the capacity of a registered representative or broker;
- Stock picker;
- Securities trading expert;
- Securities researcher or analyst;
- Financial planner or financial planning;
- Provider of stock recommendations;
- Provider of advice about buying and selling or holding recommendations as to specific securities; or
- Making an offer or sale of securities or solicitation to purchase securities.
- An investment in the Issuer involves a high degree of risk and uncertainties and may be subject to extreme volume and price volatility, especially during the Publication of the Information. Favorable past performance of the Issuers does not guarantee favorable future results. If you purchase the securities of the Issuer, you must be prepared to lose your entire investment. Some of the risks involved in purchasing the securities of the Issuers include but are not limited to the risks stated below.
- The Information is not a solicitation or recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities, and the Publisher does not endorse, independently verify or assert the truthfulness, completeness, accuracy or reliability of the Information. The Publisher conducts no due diligence or investigation of the Information or the Issuers and does not receive any verification from any party regarding the Information.
- If the Publisher publishes any percentage gain of the Issuers' share from the previous day's close in the Information, it is not and should not be construed as an indication that the future stock price or future operational results will reflect gains or otherwise prove to be advantageous to your investment.
- The Information may contain statements that Issuers' stock price has increased over a certain period of time, which may reflect an arbitrary period of time, and is not predictive or of any analytical quality; as such, you should not rely upon such information in your analysis of the present or future potential of the Issuers or its securities.
- The Information should not be interpreted in any way, shape, form or manner whatsoever as an indication of the Issuers' future stock price or future financial performance.
- You may encounter difficulties determining what, if any, portions of the Information are material or nonmaterial, making it all the more imperative that you conduct your own independent investigation of the Issuers and its securities with the assistance of your legal, tax and financial advisor.
- If the Information states that its securities are consistent with the future economic trends or even if your independent research indicates as such, you should be aware that economic trends have their own limitations, including: (a) that economic trends or predictions may be speculative; (b) consumers, producers, investors, borrowers, lenders and government may react in unforeseen ways and be affected by behavioral biases that

Publisher is unable to predict; (c) human and social factors may outweigh future economic trends that Publisher states may or will occur; (d) clear cut economic predictions have their limitations in that they do not account for the fundamental uncertainty in economic life, as well as ordinary life; (e) economic trends may be disrupted by sudden jumps, disruptions or other factors that are not accounted for in such economic trends analysis; in other words, past or present data predicting future economic trends may become irrelevant in light of fully new circumstances and situations in which uncertainty becomes reality rather than of predictive economic quality; or (f) if the trends involve a single result, it ignores other scenarios that may be crucial to make a decision in the event of unknown contingencies.

- The Information contains forward-looking statements, i.e., statements or discussions that constitute predictions, expectations, beliefs, plans, estimates, or projections as indicated by such words as expects, will, anticipates, and estimates; therefore, you should proceed with extreme caution in relying upon such statements and conduct a full investigation of the Information and the Issuers with the assistance of your lawyer, tax advisor and investment advisor as well as any such forward-looking statements. Any forward-looking statements made in the Information are limited to the time period in which they are made, and the Publisher does not undertake to update forward-looking statements that may change at any time.
- The Information is presented only as a brief snapshot of the Issuers and should only be used, at most, and if at all, as a starting point for you to conduct a thorough investigation of the Issuers and its securities and to consult your financial, legal or other advisor(s) and avail yourself of the filings and information that may be accessed at www.sec.gov or other electronic medium, including: (a) reviewing Information and Disclosure Statements and unaudited financial reports filed with the www.otcmarkets.com; (b) obtaining and reviewing publicly available information contained in commonly known search engines such as Google; and (c) investment guides at www.sec.gov and www.finra.org. You should always be concerned that the Issuers may not be current in their reporting obligations with the SEC and the OTC Markets and/or have negative signs at otcmarkets.com. You should only invest with the assistance of your attorney, lawyer and tax advisor after they have conducted exhaustive due diligence on the particular Issuer and its trading activity.
- The Publisher may hire third-party service providers and stock promoters to electronically disseminate live news about the Issuers, yet the Publisher has no control over the content of and does not verify the information that these service providers publish.

By reading the Information and visiting the Platform, you agree you have not relied on the Information and agree to indemnify, defend and hold the Publisher harmless from any liability for any claimed direct, indirect, incidental, punitive, or consequential damages pertaining to your receipt of the Information without limitation.
