

Hello Ontarian,

My name is Arthur, and I'm interested in your mission to teach people about passive income. Your account caught my attention because of the inspirational message you share in all your posts, commitment.

Sadly, the size of your audience is not significant which lowers the chance of people being able to see your content. Also, it's quite apparent that your social media manager is not generating a bigger audience.

However, I believe that I can not only grow your audience, but your landing page's visitors as well. This will grow your client list and in three months it will 10x your profits.

My expertise involves creating long form and short email copies, using persuasive techniques on posts, and transforming landing pages.

If you think my assistance is needed then we can further discuss scheduling a meeting.

Best Regards,

Arthur
