Tutoring

Are you getting ready to take the Digital SAT® for the first time. Albert has created Digital SAT® practice guides for the Reading and Writing section and the Math section. For more information use the QR code found on this flyer: NHV PSAT SAT ACT Prep

As you may already know, last year we continued with our after-school tutoring program with North Hunterdon and Voorhees teachers as well as partnered with a virtual tutoring platform through tutor.com. Tutor.com offers free, 24/7 tutoring services to students. This includes tutoring for 100+ subjects, including AP®; a drop-off writing review; practice quizzes for math, science, and ELA; and test prep for the SAT and ACT. Both programs are continuing again for this school year!

In regards to the after school tutoring program with our teachers, in the following linked One Stop Tutoring Doc, you will find a list of all our tutors, their subject areas and courses, availability, and their corresponding Google Form. If your student wants to receive help, then they would fill out the teacher's Google Form to request help. While we appreciate parental/guardian support, you should not be filling out the form. Please have your student use their school-assigned email to sign up for a tutoring session. Here is the link to the One Stop Tutoring Doc.

Once your student signs up for a session, the tutor will get an email notification about the desired meeting time. If a teacher-tutor cannot meet with your student, then the following alternative options are available:

- Email the tutor to create another time to meet with the requested tutor.
- Request a different tutor in the desired content area by filling out their Google Form.
- Use tutor.com by accessing the following link: tutor.nhvweb.net.
- Email your school's Tutoring Coordinator for additional assistance.

Your tutoring coordinator is Becky Fortugno for North Hunterdon High School.
