As the students of University of Education Lahore were engaged in their Final Exams of Spring Semester 2023 held in the last week of May, 2023, therefore Instead a face to face activity, an online workshop on Preparing for the PPSC Exams: From the Lense of PPSC Qualifying Candidates" was organized to provide the students with essential guidance and strategies to enhance their preparation for the PPSC exam, whether as a first-time applicant or as a repeater seeking to increase the chances of success.

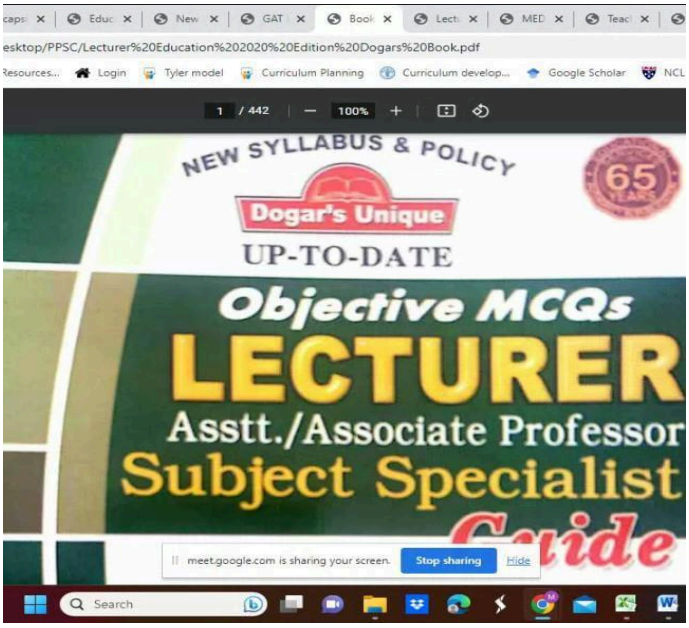

The speakers first of all provided an overview of the PPSC exam structure, eligibility criteria, and important dates. They shared their thoughts on the exam pattern, marking scheme, and syllabus breakdown.

By sharing effective study techniques, the speakers emphasized on the following:

- Developing a study plan and setting realistic goals.
- Efficient time management for effective exam preparation.
- Recognizing and managing exam-related stress and anxiety

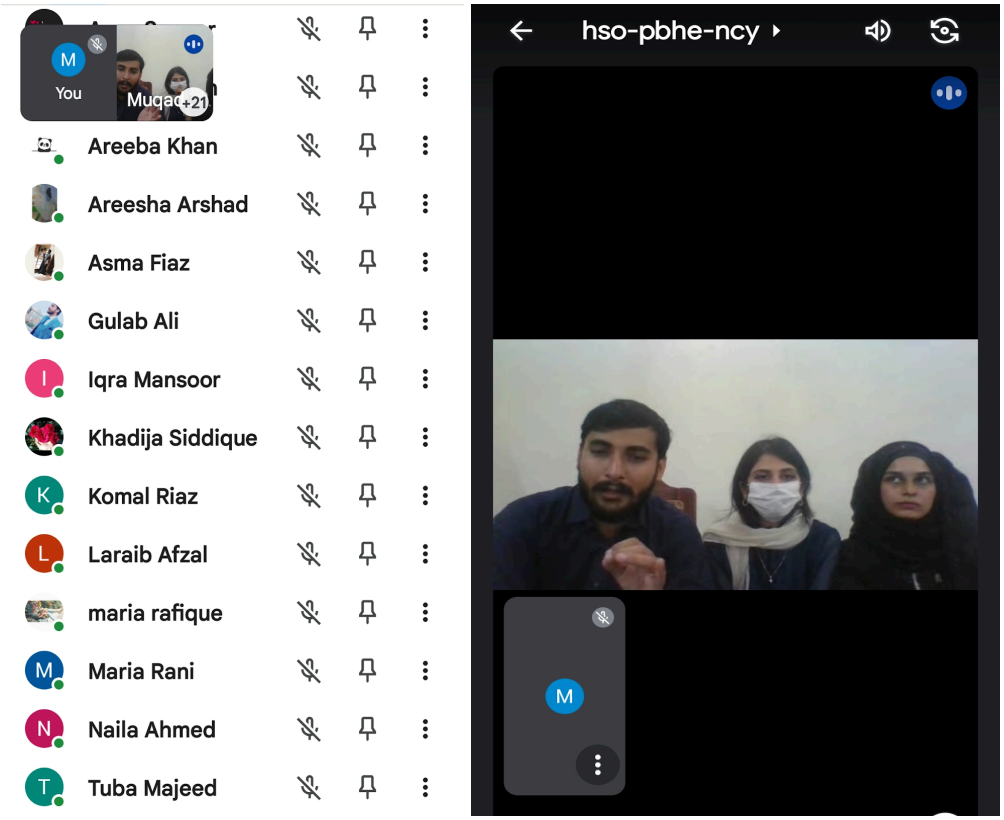

They recommended different books to the participants that can help them in their PPSC preparation.

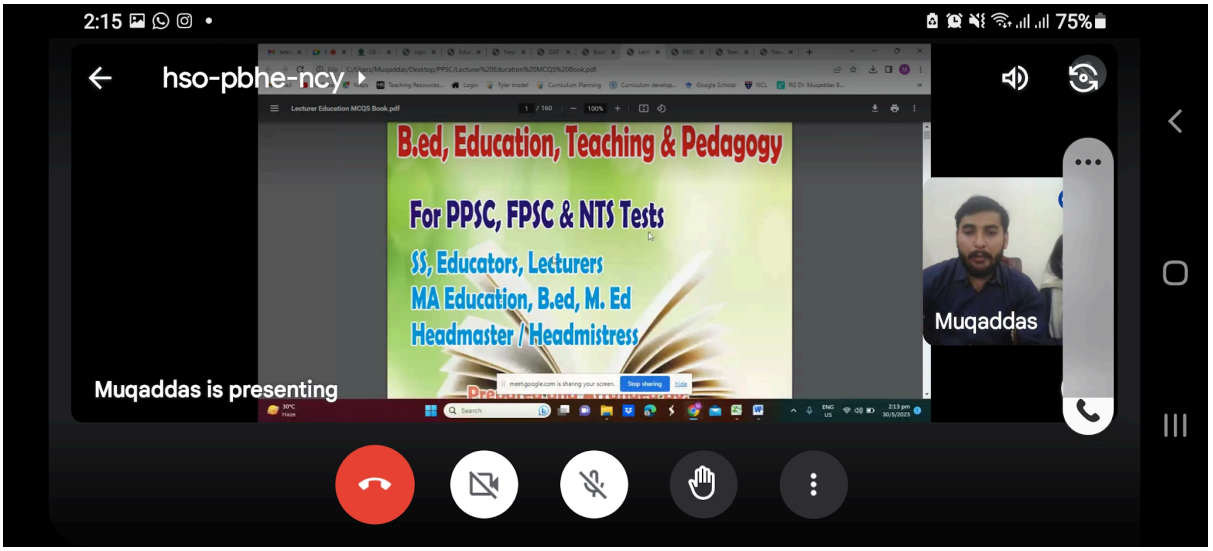

Based on their personal experience of appearing in and qualifying the PPSC exam, the speakers taught some useful techniques to effectively structure answers and convey ideas.

They further executed some good practices related to preparing for the interview stage; Mock interviews and confidence-building exercises.

Around 25 students participated in the workshop. During the Q&A session, the speakers addressed the participants' questions and concerns and shared additional tips and best practices. It is hoped that by incorporating the strategies, study techniques, and subject-specific tips discussed in this workshop, the participants can do well in the competitive exam.
