

Contents of this archive

- Daily top 50 charts with annotations, exact position changes, and dropouts
- An archive of the total plays of the top 10, as well as the total plays of the top 50. These values are also posted along with the top 50 charts each day.
- An archive of the amount of songs inside the top 200 to receive over 100,000 and 200,000 streams (since 11/18/15, when the new Spotify charts website was launched)
- An archive of the total plays of the top 100 and top 200 (since 11/18/15)
- An archive of several weekly top 20 charts before Spotify started to include them on their website
- A backup (12/01/15) of a list of the highest one-day play counts including every song to ever record at least 800,000 plays in a day

*The following songs reached a new peak yesterday, but I'm not sure what the peak is. This is because Spotify displays whether a song has increased between yesterday and today, but not the magnitude of the increase. Each song with the asterisk decreased from yesterday but ended up at the same place as 2 days ago, thus there was a new peak yesterday.

Songs with an asterisk (*) after their position update are songs that reached a new peak yesterday, but I don't know what it is. This is because Spotify indicates whether a song has increased or decreased from yesterday, and these are all songs that would have received a new peak yesterday had they increased (which they did). Unfortunately, Spotify does not indicate the magnitude of these increases, so although I know that these songs have reached a new peak, I cannot tell you where they were yesterday.
