Product Description:

This handmade teal earthenware heart with flower design makes a perfect gift for friends & family. As these are handmade each heart may vary slightly.

To achieve the floral pattern, a texture is pushed into the clay then each heart is cut, deciding on the pattern position as I go. This results in a variety of floral layouts which are then dried & fired in a kiln before color stain & crackle glaze is hand applied & then re-fired. The heart is then threaded onto black cotton cord to allow you to hang it wherever you choose!

Each heart is 7 cm from dip to point of heart.

Product Description:

Small Swarm of birds - freedom, lightness, elegance

Birds, in their flawless innocence, represent freedom, lightness, elegance and the intricate dynamics of life.

The freedom of the swarm enables it to break through any wall and obstacle. This feeling of freedom exponents when seeing all the birds together; they convey the power of community, connecting two separate worlds: the one in front, and the one behind the wall.

From a design perspective, presented on a blank wall, the swan merges with it, transforming into a unique installation, and creating a striking is the effect without actually covering the space.

The swarm melts together with the white wall, forming a new being, inspiring a sensation of relief and piece. Outdoors, dark wooden backgrounds and cement walls complement the white elegance with their rough and rugged appearance, highlighting the sense of lightness inspired by the birds.

Weather indoor or outdoor, the hand-made sculptures question the perception of the observer. The dynamic alternation of Light and shade bestow a subtle liveliness upon the birds. These continuous shifts, as symbols of lightness and freedom, awaken dreams in the mind of the observer. Gradually the object dissolves in the viewer's perception, receiving new life, transcending into poetry.

- Made of ceramic with a silky matt surface.
- Suitable for mounting indoors and outdoors.
- Waterproof and weather resistant
- Easy installation with nails
- Can also be used as wall hooks

Small flock contains 4 birds in different sizes.

Product Description:

Modern olive tree sculpture is a ceramic olive tree with brass olive branches. A gorgeous, Greek olive tree in white with a split trunk, as very old olive trees will sometimes be and white ceramic olives. This ceramic and brass sculpture is a modern tree with ceramic olives, ceramic trunk and brass branches. It was made by our shop member, George Sep.

Its minimalist form is a slender, but also stout, olive tree with a deep opening in its trunk and two branches on each side. Each olive branch has three twigs. Each separate twig has a thin, brass branch with beautiful leaves and ceramic olives.

This golden and white olive tree measures 27cm in height x 21cm in length x 6.5cm in width (10.62" x 8.26" x 2.55"). It weighs about 600 grams.

It's a truly gorgeous, modern sculpture. A lovely, olive tree art object for any instance of celebration, or event. It will always be loved and cherished.

Product Description:

A curious cat is included in this composition with portraits of women ad crafts.

Erling Valtyrson created this 2013 mezzotint in an edition of 30 and signed, titled and numbered each in pencil.

Erling Valtyrson (Norway, b. 1955)

Valtyrson began drawing at a very early age, creating characters and telling their stories. His formal training was at the Art Institute in Bergen, Norway after which he received a fellowship to pursue a career as a printmaker. His focus has always been on the medium of mezzotint which requires great precision. He does not work from sketches, preferring to be impulsive when preparing a plate. His subject matter centers on still life and portraiture, always in a naturalist style.

Valtyrson's work is collected internationally but most strongly in japan. It is included in the National Gallery, the Contemporary Museum, Bergen University and the private collection of Queen Sonja, among others.

Product Description:

It's clear to me that that baby carriage is so beautifully drawn that it could be re-constructed from here if necessary.

Without really knowing anything about Lucile Haynes I'm sure she studied with Kenneth Hayes Miller at the Art Students League. These are his Fourteenth Street matrons, but depicted in a gentler, more empathetic manner. And of course the medium of etching makes that connection too -- in one or two years lithography will come to dominate scenes like this and in fact Hayes did make lithographs after this.

It is signed and dated in pencil and also signed and dated in the plate, at the lower left. The pin holes in the margins are from the method of drying the sheet so that it would stay flat. These are not condition flaws.

Product Description:

A rare work on paper by Ben Fenske. Drawn using conte crayon from direct observation, Fenske uses classical drafting techniques to capture this portrait of a woman's face, slightly in profile. Fenske utilizes a motley of colors to illuminate her features. Scribbles come together to depict a beautiful woman.

This work is unframed. Wrapped in protective cellophane sleeve.

Ben Fenske (b. 1978) although a native of Minnesota, and has been working and living in Sag Harbor, New York and Florence, Italy for the last 7 years. An oil painter in the spirit of the 19th and 20th century impressionists, he often chooses informal and contemporary scenes with an implied narrative. His work, which features brash and suggestive brushstrokes, delights in light and color and is regularly exhibited in shows across the US. Fenske has been the subject of countless national articles, notably the American Artist Magazine which included him as one of the Best 25 Living Artists in 2012.
