MARKHAM HEATING & AIR CONDITIONING SYSTEMS

SINCE 1983

When your air conditioning system isn't performing the way it should near Bentley St, you need more than a quick fix—you need a team known for doing the job right. At Markham Heating & Air Conditioning, our reputation is built on dependable results, delivered by skilled HVAC contractors and experienced HVAC technician professionals who take the time to understand your system inside and out.

We don't just focus on repairs—we look at your entire comfort setup. Whether it's routine maintenance services, a customized maintenance plan, or a full system upgrade, we make sure your equipment runs efficiently and reliably through every season.

If your system is beyond repair or no longer meeting your needs, we also offer complete air conditioning installation and installation services tailored to your space. From modern cooling systems to complementary upgrades like air purification, we help improve comfort while supporting cleaner, healthier indoor air.

Our expertise extends beyond cooling. If you're planning ahead for colder months, we can assist with furnace installation and ensure your entire system is working together seamlessly.

At the core of everything we do is consistent, honest professional servicing. For homeowners and businesses near Bentley St, that means peace of mind knowing your comfort is in the hands of a trusted local team.

How Does AC Repair Work?

Understanding the process makes it easier to know what to expect—and ensures you're getting the most out of your AC repair experience. Here's how it typically works:

1. Schedule Online or Call Getting started is simple. You can book online or call to speak with a team that values responsive customer service. Whether it's a minor concern or urgent issue with your air conditioner, we'll arrange a convenient time for service.
2. On-Site Inspection A qualified HVAC technician arrives to assess your system. This includes checking overall cooling performance, inspecting components, and performing venting and ductwork checks to ensure proper airflow and system function.
3. Diagnose Issue After the inspection, the technician identifies the root cause—whether it's affecting energy efficiency, system operation, or indoor air quality. This step ensures the solution addresses the real problem, not just the symptoms.

4. Approve Repair Quote You'll receive a clear explanation and upfront pricing before any work begins. We focus on honest recommendations, whether it's a simple fix, ongoing maintenance services, or more extensive work.

5. Perform Repair or Replacement Once approved, we carry out the necessary repair. This could include restoring performance, recommending furnace repair if related issues are found, or even suggesting installation services or air conditioning installation if your system needs upgrading. We also consider eco-friendly HVAC solutions where possible.

6. Test System for Proper Operation Before wrapping up, we test the system to confirm optimal cooling performance, improved energy efficiency, and better indoor air quality. This final step ensures your system is running smoothly and reliably.

With the right professional servicing, your air conditioning system can stay efficient, dependable, and ready for any season.
