

Pocketful O' Potatoes

by DM Superelf

This is a magical pocket that can be sewn onto clothing. The pocket has a cloth outer face and a silk interior and is never damaged by sewing.

The Pocketful O' Potatoes contains from 5 to 8 small Red Bliss Potatoes that have started to root and have several small roots sticking out from the eyes. Each potato will behave as if an Entangle spell has been cast upon it; one round after being thrown or dropped, the roots will grow into a large mass of impassable vegetation, covering an area 15' in diameter and 10' high, centered on the potato. Several of these potatoes, when together in a strategic fashion, can form an impressive and impenetrable wall. 2 potatoes may be thrown per round.

The vegetation lasts 2 to 4 hours. The potatoes replenish themselves each night.

The potatoes can also be eaten, but only if they are adequately peeled before setting them down on any hard surface. 5 to 8 of these potatoes, if peeled and cooked, will feed one medium-sized adult for one meal.
