

Come now, don't be shy. You weren't so shy earlier, little omega. Now that my twin is here, you don't want to do your job. Come sit on your Alpha's lap and keep my knot warm just like I taught you.

It's just me, Cira, you don't have to go around asserting your dominance around me. I know that's your omega. I don't want to take them away from you.

It's not that Luna, I just know that their needy little hole gets sad when it is empty too long. They get anxious when they aren't being used. If they aren't resting on my knot they are trying to shove their fingers inside themselves or find something to fuck themselves with.

Well you know how omegas are. They can't help it. It's in their nature. It's why they need alphas. If it wasn't for us they would just go around fucking anyone that offered to fill them up. A good omega knows that their only purpose is for their alpha's pleasure.

It's something that we have been working on. They were raised in one of those new age households where omegas are treated equally to betas and alphas. It got them all confused in the head. So when they got mated to me, a traditional alpha, they had to have a bit of readjustment. Sitting on my knot and keeping it warm in front of company is just part of their training.

Those new households really should be stopped. Don't they know they are hurting their omegas? It is in their nature to be submissive. It is biologically proven that omegas need an alpha to take care of them. Especially during heats. They are so far gone during them that it can get dangerous.

I know! I agree with you completely. It's part of why I joke with my little o that I rescued them. [chuckle] You should've seen what the little slut was using to get themselves through heats before I got to them. It was just the internet and a toy that had a knot that inflates.

No cum?

None at all

Oh you poor thing. You are so lucky that my sister decided to mate with you. Heats must be so much better now that you are getting a proper amount of alpha cum inside you.

Yes, my pretty omega has taken so well to being my personal cum dump. And I would prefer you not ask them any questions or talk to them. When they are keeping my knot warm, they are to be quiet and still. A proper whore is seen and not heard.

Of course, my mistake. I wouldn't want to get in the way of your training. I would throw a fit if someone interfered when I was training my omega.

How is she, by the way? I know you two were trying.

And succeeded!

That's so great! Congratulations. I'm waiting a little bit before I breed this one up. They need to get used to be used in the traditional sense in a traditional household before I put a little one in their belly. It's just another thing I'm denying them until I see fit. How many weeks along is your omega?

She is about 15 weeks along. She is already starting to show a bit so I think it might be twins.

How wonderful! I hope she gives you two beautiful and strong alphas.

Me too. I wouldn't mind betas either but I very much don't want omegas. They just require so much more effort to raise and then they are just mated off.

It's their nature. They can't help it. If they were supposed to be independent, then why are they so naturally cute and submissive? If omegas were meant to be dominant, nature would have made it so. But it gave that job to alphas. Omegas are meant to be protected and cherished and fucked. They are too weak and too stupid to do anything else.

Sometimes I think that my omega couldn't think her way out of a paper bag.

The slut trying not to wriggle on my lap can't do much for themselves. Even with the way they were raised.

Then what's the point? It goes to show that you can nurture omegas to be independent and think for themselves but their nature will always win. They will always end up bent over, begging some alpha to knot and breed them.

Of course they will. It's why one of the first rules I made for my cum dump was that they are to open and ready for their alpha whenever I want. They are to be naked at all times. I also let them know they are going to spend more time on a knot than empty. It's good for them. Reaffirms my little o of their place in the hierarchy.

That is one of the most important things. Especially if you decide to take another mate.

Let me get this one trained first before I even consider that. I think that once the bitch is fully trained I won't even need another omega. They are very praise driven and such a knotslut. It's amazing that despite that new age way they were raised, they turned out like this. You would think they had a traditional upbringing sometimes.

That's more a testament to your training

And giving into their nature. They tried fighting it at first but now have grown to accept it. Now we are working on getting the slut to embrace being a sweet and obedient little o. No more independence for you.

It's so nice seeing an omega in their proper place. Warming their alpha's knot while they sit there and be pretty. It's not like they have anything to add to the conversation. And I'm sure just sitting on the knot, knowing that it is inside them, is enough to get them all turned on.

You should feel how much slick is filling up their hole right now.

That's their only real job. Being a warm and wet hole for their alpha. So many omegas try to fight what they are, what they truthfully are, only to end up exactly like this. And they couldn't be happier. I remember when my mate thought she was independent. Told me she could take care of herself. I told her sure. 6 weeks later she was banging on my door begging me to knot her and claim her. She had realized that she wanted to be a traditional omega. Now she couldn't be happier. She accepted her place and found inner peace.

That is what I'm hoping for with my mate. Do you wanna move, my slut? Huh? Has my cock been pressing against that little bundle of nerves inside you sending sparks everytime I move slightly? Since you have been sitting so well, not even making a peep, you've earned a reward. I want you to show my twin how well you ride. Go ahead and earn your knot, little bitch.

[WET NOISES START]

They started right away. They must really want that knot.

Of course they do. I'm sure they tuned out of conversation and have only been focusing on the feeling of my cock filling them up. The bitch just got permission to move and do what they love doing best. Isn't that right, bitch? Go ahead and tell Luna how much you love my cock inside your hole.

..That's adorable! That's it sweetheart, keep bouncing on my sister's cock.

After I finish their training, I'll let you fuck them. It'll be good for them to learn that they are going to be shared and I know you'll love how fucking warm and tight this hole is. No matter how many times I fuck and knot it, it stays just as fucking tight. It's like a god damn dream.

Stop describing it. You are going to make me hard and I don't think my mate will appreciate me coming home and fucking them into the mattress as a greeting.

She might like it though. She is a submissive knotslut just like this one. The one riding my cock so well. Such a slutty little omega. So pretty for me on my cock. Don't touch yourself though. You cum on my cock or you don't cum at all.

When did you start enforcing that rule?

Recently. I think it's good for the bitch to learn that their pleasure comes from their Alpha's.

I agree. That was a rule I made with my omega and she is so grateful everytime I knot her cunt. She practically begs me for it multiple times a day. That's how a proper omega should be. Desperate and eager to please.

Mmm, doesn't that sound nice little o? I'm sure you are jealous of Luna's omega, aren't you? You want to be just like her, right? Begging for my knot multiple times a day so that you can orgasm. I know that's what you need. My own cum dump, only good for taking knots and being filled with my cum. Going to make sure your hole is so fucking sloppy. Going to wreck this needy little hole of yours.

Alright, I'm going to go now because watching this is making me miss my mate. You two have fun, I'll let myself out. It was nice catching up with you, Cira!

Bye Luna! [footsteps and door close] Now it's just the two of us. You were doing well, putting on a show for my sister but now it is just you and me. Your only job is to make me cum little o. I know you can do it. I know you want my knot. So fucking earn it like the slut you are. [adlib till mutual orgasm]

Good omega. That hits the spot, doesn't it? It feels good to be properly knotted and tied to your alpha, doesn't it? Such a good cum dump for alpha. Made me so proud. Did so well in front of my twin today. Love you so much little o. Made your alpha so fucking proud. So fucking perfect. The best bitch I could ever ask for.

~ Inclusivity Stuff ~

Pet Names: omega, slut, little o, cum dump, whore, bitch, knotslut

Body Parts Mentioned: hole

Misc: Your alpha is Cira and her identical twin sister is Luna,