

With your group, investigate the site you've been assigned.

1. How would you describe the purpose of this project?
2. What are the components of the project? For example, does the project include essays? Maps? Data visualizations? A digital exhibit? Something else?
3. If you had to pick the closest non-digital equivalent to the project, would it be:
 - a. A monograph?
 - b. An encyclopedia?
 - c. A museum catalog?
 - d. An edited collection?
 - e. A finding aid?
 - f. Something else?
4. What does the digital format offer that wouldn't be available if the project were in an analog format?
5. If your only example were this project, how would you define the term "digital humanities"?

Projects

1. Furnace and Fugue
2. [\[Re\]Activate Mama Pina's Cookbook](#)
3. A visual exploration of a 15th century bookshop
4. Shadow Plays: Virtual Realities in an Analog World
5. Hiroshima Archive
6. I'm Still Surviving
7. Stolen Relations
8. A New Vision for Islamic Pasts and Futures
9. Virtual Martin Luther King, Jr. Project