Event Organizer

- The parent organization, LOVE, HALLIE, carefully selects motivated teens, who have the maturity to run the youth division of the organization on their own and solely plan the annual festival it hosts
- Planning of the festival entails cold calling, advertising the event using various media and setting up event space.
- Co-Host of the annual festival where I supervise the flow of the event as far as performances, guest speakers, and the presentation of works of arts, along with introducing the festival itself and interacting with different parts of the festival directly when not on stage.
