

Goal: Last year, we challenged the student body to reflect on their views of others/actions towards others with quotes from Martin Luther King Jr. This year, we would like to challenge the student body again to step out of their comfort zone and experience a different perspective/culture during Global Diversity Awareness Month. The purpose of this activity is to open students' awareness of the different communities in and around Athens, GA.

Challenge Rules: Students should visit/shop/eat out/etc. at different suggested locations, then complete a google form logging their experience. Form submissions will be counted by advisory. The advisory with the most excursions will win an advisory breakfast.
